Townsend Collects $636,803; Spends $585,446 In 15 Months

PENSION PLAN ACCOUNTING IS MADE

Delegates at Chicago Meeting Are Given Financial Picture
BALANCE IS $51,356
Leader and Chief Aide Each Get $7,500 for Organizing Work

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (AP) — Dr. Francis E. Townsend's campaign for old age pensions took in $636,803.15 in 15 months, the California physician's followers were told at their first annual convention today.

Its directors spent, in pushing their drive, a total of $585,446.42 in that time, said Ray S. McAlister in reading the financial report.

Dr. Townsend himself received $7532.75, the report said, including expenses Mr. McAlister estimated at "about $74 a week." The co-founder of the Townsend plan, R. E. Clements, former Long Beach, Cal., real estate man, was paid a few dollars less—$7517.22 for the 15 months.

The report covered the financial status of the movement from July 1, 1934, to Sept. 30, 1935. As he read the salaries of the founders—$50 a week, plus $50 for ordinary expenses and a second drawing account of $50 for traveling expenses—Mr. McAlister said jokingly:

"Has $51,356 Balance. That's a lot of money? That $74 a week covers airplane trips, too, and they're very expensive."

The "O. A. R. P. Ltd." (old age revolving pensions) a not-for-profit corporation, the business end of Dr. Townsend's campaign, finished September with a balance of $51,356.79, Mr. McAlister reported.

The total of $7,532.75 received by Dr. Townsend came roughly to $502 a month. Pensions of $200 a month would be paid the aged—all over 60 years—under its proposal.

Mr. McAlister's report of the Townsend plan's income, read to a packed session of the doctor's followers, bristled with big figures.

From the sale of books, buttons and leaflets alone, "O. A. R. P. Ltd., took in $147,574.24, he reported.

"Townsend clubs" as clubs, donated $133,274.28 and membership fees, donations and special collections from individuals came to another $280,594.93.

Then Mr. McAlister turned to the spending side. Salaries of the head office force totaled $39,550, he said. Dr. Townsend, he explained, is listed on the payroll as an organizer.

The regional offices of Dr. Townsend's organization cost $41,396; supplies for area managers, $39,500; and the telephone and telegraph bill for Dr. Townsend's national drive, $3808. The total costs for furniture and fixtures of the organization was $3322. (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

BOLD BANDIT 6 WPA JOBS APPROVED

Takes $15 from Santa Ana Man in Holdup Near Courthouse
U. S. Allocates $101,053 For More Projects in This County

Santa Ana police today were searching for a daring bandit who at 9:55 o'clock last night held up and robbed Herman W. Goodwin, 522 East Chestnut street, of $15 as he walked along Broadway directly in front of the alley which runs between the courthouse and the hall of records.

The streets were lined with many parked cars, and inside the courthouse the Santa Ana Community Players were playing to an audience of more than 100 persons. Less than 50 yards from the scene is the office of the California Highway Patrol where an officer was on duty.

Mr. Goodwin told officers that a man stepped out of the alley, jammed a .45 caliber automatic pistol against his ribs and said, "Hand over your money." Mr. Goodwin gave the bandit his billfold which contained $15. As the bandit disappeared around a nearby corner, Mr. Goodwin ran to the Y. M. C. A. building where he telephoned police.

Mr. Goodwin told officers that the bandit was approximately six feet tall and weighed about 170 or 180 pounds. He was dressed in a gray suit, gray hat, blue shirt, was wearing white shoes and gold rimmed glasses, and had a grey mustache. A man answering this description was reported to be in Tony's cafe on Bush street at 1 a. m. today, but had left before officers arrived.

SEATTLE MAN BLAMED FOR 6 KILLINGS

Mass Murder Suspect Refuses to Answer Police Questions

WOMAN TELLS STORY

Bloody Murder Related By Partner in Theft Slaying Case

SEATTLE, Oct. 25. (AP)—County Prosecutor W. C. Magnuson announced this morning that all night questioning of Leo Hall, 33, former dry dock worker, about the Erland's Point mass slayings last year had failed to bring "an expected break" in the case.

Detective Capt. Ernest York of the Seattle police homicide squad said Hall replied "I don't remember" to most of the questions. Hall, arrested in Portland Wednesday on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, maintained a close-lipped defiance during all the hours of questioning here yesterday and last night.

Look for Doctor Meantime the authorities were believed to be looking for an unidentified doctor, who, the statement said, treated Hall's wounds after the bloody battle in which six were slain.

Questioning of Hall was prompted by a statement made by Mrs. Larry Poulos, 27, who police say accused him of the slayings. Mrs. Poulos' statement said that when she asked Hall for her share of loot taken, he replied that he had taken only enough to pay his doctor. The woman told the officers the entire story of the crime, Magnuson said, and declared Hall murdered Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flider, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Chenevert, Magnus Jordan and Fred Bolcom in a beach cottage, March 31, 1934.

Had Part in Robbery Hall used a knife, blackjack, hammer and gun in slaying the six persons, the woman said.

Mrs. Poulos admitted being a participant in the robbery, which ended in the murder, but insisted she took no part in the killings, and fled from the cottage during the battle between Hall and the victims.

In her confession, Mrs. Poulos expressed fear of Hall and said he had threatened her life several times.

Officers revealed today that Poulos, husband of Mrs. Poulos, and a "Jack Justice" also were in custody here for questioning.

ANN WINS FIGHT FOR DAUGHTER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25. (AP)—By court order after a long legal fight, Hollywood's blonde film actress, Ann Harding, is to have sole custody of her daughter, Jane 7, except for certain minor concessions to the divorced husband and father, Harry C. Bannister.

This order resulting from an unexpected agreement between counsel was entered late yesterday after hearing on Bannister's petition for custody. Miss Harding already had sole custody by supplementary decree last spring from a Nevada court where she divorced Bannister in 1932.

So The People May Know

THE SANTA ANA JOURNAL dispatched the following telegram to Frank Y. McLaughlin, Works Progress administrator, today: FRANK Y. McLAUGHLIN, Works Progress Administrator, San Francisco, Cal.

The following questions are respectfully submitted with a view to having them answered by telegram:

Will WPA make grant to Orange County Flood Control District on a revision of its general plan without submitting an entirely new application? If a new application is required, how long will it take to be passed upon?

If plan is revised, will the same amount, $6,574,000, be granted to the district?

Can WPA make a grant in the amount of 80 per cent of the construction costs?

Will WPA prepare all construction plans and specifications?

Who will have direct supervision of the work?

Will the work be done under contract or day labor?

Is it necessary that the work be completed within the work relief year?

$45,000 BLAZE AT NORWALK

Flames shot 100 feet into the air in a hay fire at the Shikarian and Brice dairy farm near Norwalk last night, resulting in destruction of a large barn and 1500 tons of hay, doing damage estimated at $45,000.

Traffic on the Southern Pacific railroad was reported held up for some time by the blaze in the dairy, which is located 50 feet from the railroad right-of-way one-half mile west of Norwalk.

Reports that telephone lines between Santa Ana and Los Angeles were destroyed were denied by local telephone officials today, who said that service was interrupted during the night. Lines burned probably belonged to a local company serving that district, they said.

LOSS TOTALS $10,000,000 IN SOUTH

60,000 Acres Burned Over in Sweeping Brush Inferno

FIRE IS 18 MILES LONG

Owners Warned to Take Property Out of Area Near Lake Resort

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25. (AP)—With approximately 60,000 acres already burned over, and a rapidly sweeping brush fire threatening many homes in the Malibu lake sector, estimates of damage from wind and fires in all sections of Southern California in the last four days soared to between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000 today.

Roughly divided, estimates from various sources placed damage to citrus and other agricultural crops in Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange and Los Angeles counties at $4,000,000; potential watershed and soil erosion damage in the Malibu area and foothill districts north of Los Angeles, $3,500,000 and property damage of about $2,000,000.

Combined watershed and property damage in the Malibu section alone was estimated at around $3,000,000 by Dirk van Tol, superintendent of the Malibu ranch properties. This fire area extends from the Ventura-Los Angeles county line almost to Las Flores canyon, along an ocean front of 18 miles and a width of five miles back into the mountains.

Flames Continue Firefighters believed they had checked the onward sweep of flames at the east bank of Malibu creek today and prevented the eastward course of the conflagration toward the Riviera, Brentwood, Bel Air and Beverly Hills districts, but the flames continued toward Malibu lake.

Wind Unfavorable The Malibu lake sector is dotted with hundreds of residences of motion picture players. The Los Angeles county fire warden said wind conditions were distinctly unfavorable, and forestry crews from Bakersfield, Fresno and San Diego counties were augmenting local fire fighters in attempts to halt the flames.

There were 600 firefighters at work today on this front, and 450 more were to be placed there (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

HOMES DOOMED

Sheriff Logan Jackson received at 11:30 a. m. today the following all-points bulletin over the state teletype system: "Informed by county authorities that any persons having cabins in the vicinity of or around Malibu lake will only have about five hours to remove possessions, as fire is rapidly approaching the area and no doubt everything will be burned."

Signed, James E. Davis, Chief of Police, Los Angeles.

HERE'S AN AMAZING OFFER

Journal, 3 Magazines 65 Cents

The Journal every day, plus three interesting magazines, all for 65 cents a month! That's the important message which is repeated again in a full page advertisement today. Incredible? Well, it almost seems that way. But it is true. Furthermore, it is open to both new and old subscribers. Hundreds are availing themselves of the remarkable offer, the like of which has seldom ever been made by a newspaper in Southern California. Here is the plan as announced by the publishers: You can get the three magazines and The Journal at a subscription price of only 65 cents per month for eight months, plus a registration fee of 30 cents. After the eight months are up, you pay only the regular Journal subscription price of 50 cents per month. But the magazines keep on coming—some of them for a total period of two years! All you need to do is to give your Journal carrier your order with a 30-cent registration fee, or you can phone 3600 and a smiling Journal carrier will come to your door. Better still, turn to the full-page advertisement on page 15. Check the magazines you desire and mail the coupon direct to The Journal at Santa Ana. Just take a look at these lists. TWO ARMIES ADVANCING TO BATTLE

Italians Move Toward Harar to Face Crack Ethiopian Forces

200 BOMBS DROPPED

African City Blasted By Invading Planes; More Troops Leave

(By The Associated Press) The first major conflict between invading Italian forces and the tribesmen of Ethiopia appeared imminent tonight as Fascist troops from Italian Somaliland moved up the Webbe Shibelli valley toward Harar, "garden spot of Ethiopia." Prospects for the clash were heightened as 12,000 of the Black Empire's crack infantry, cavalry and anti-aircraft troops left Harar for the southern front—ostensibly to meet the invaders.

In Addis Ababa, Emperor Haile Selassie reviewed new forces of war-maddened tribesmen on their way to the battle scene.

Count Luigi Vinci-Gigliucci, Italian minister in Addis Ababa, agreed at last to leave the capital.

From Harar came a report that four Italian bombing planes had dropped more than 200 bombs on Gabraharre.

SOMALILAND ARMY MOVES TOWARD HARAR

ROME, Oct. 25. (AP)—Italy's Somaliland army was announced today to be moving forward up the Webbe-Shibelli valley in the direction of Harar, Ethiopia.

An official communique announced the capture of two additional villages in the Sciaivali region, Callafo and Celedi taken Oct. 20 and 21 following the fall of Dagnerrei.

The communique said that after the Italian forces had moved into Callafo, several tribal chiefs presented themselves to the Italian commander to make acts of submission, while 500 Ethiopian rifles were captured in the operation.

The communique stated that the Eritrean front was quiet except for the gradual infiltration of Italian advance guards into scattered districts of Tigre province. No resistance, it was stated, is being offered by the Ethiopian troops.

MAIN ETHIOPIAN ARMY OFF FOR SOUTHERN FRONT (Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

HARAR, Ethiopia, Oct. 25. (AP)—Twelve thousand well equipped Ethiopian infantry, cavalry and anti-aircraft troops, the main body of the Harar regulars, started for the southern front today after being reviewed by Ras Nasibu, who will command them in battle against the Italians.

Led by 2000 heavily-laden camels, the soldiers rumbled southward in American-made motor trucks toward the Fascist forces led by General Rodolfo Graziani.

The abuna, or bishop of Ethiopia's Coptic Christian church, blessed their colors and cathedral priests gave the soldiers absolution.

Almost fanatical Galla women, weeping, singing, shrieking and indulging in lamentations, lent a true Oriental touch to the scene—the most colorful ever witnessed in the only walled city of Emperor Haile Selassie.

Ras Nasibu, governor of Harar and a principal Ethiopian commander in the south, told the Associated Press that Jigjiga, 50 miles to the East, would be one of (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Townsend 'Amazed' By Homage at Convention

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (AP)—A meek, little, gray-haired man stood "amazed" today amidst the 6,000 delegates he rallied to the cause of old age pensions.

"I never dreamed of anything like this," he whispered beneath the tumult of thousands shouting and singing his name.

Dazed by the homage paid him, he was still the same mild-mannered man who two years ago was just plain Dr. Francis E. Townsend of Long Beach, Cal.

"When we first started out in California two years ago, I thought it might be something like woman suffrage. The idea would spread slowly and after a long time something would come of it," he said.

"But this—I am amazed," he added.

"We just happened to strike a popular note at a time when the people needed something to cling to."

His every appearance was taken as a signal for a delirium of cheers. Mere mention of his name was enough to start an uproar.

Women screamed. Men shouted. Hands clapped a deafening chorus. One old man waved his cane and yelled: "Whoopie!"

While others of Dr. Townsend's followers were singing happily, some of the delegates told what they'd do with the money—the $200 a month which, under the Townsend plan, all citizens over 60 would be paid by the government.

"I expect," said Mrs. Fred Denio, Riverside, Cal., wife of a retired railroad man, "that I'd be foolish enough to adopt some little orphan. Would we ask for more later? No, I don't think anyone would."

"It'd make it so that my wife and I could take a little trip now and then," said C. R. Auken, a vegetable farmer from Walla Walla, Wash. "Then we could fix up our place."

"I'd have a car," said Mrs. Tillie Hammond, Los Angeles, a widow, "and I'd have a chauffeur. I'd like to buy clothing for some people whose children haven't got a decent change."

Frank Lee, 53-year-old businessman of Orange, Cal., thought first about the good the pension would do if he were to fall ill.

"Home, sweet home," a new one—came next on his list, and then "a good car, for I'd like to travel a lot."

KING GEORGE TELLS 'GRAVE CONCERN' OVER WAR

CITES PEACE EFFORTS OF ENGLAND

Roosevelt Promises An Early Reply to Query On League Sanctions

LONDON, Oct. 25. (AP)—King George expressed "gravest concern" over the Italo-Ethiopian crisis today in an address on the occasion of the eighth parliament of his reign.

Domestically, he noted the kingdom's "further considerable advance toward prosperity" in a speech which was read by Lord Hailsham before the assembled houses of commons and lords.

Usual Paragraph The address included the paragraph which appears in all the king's peace-time speeches:

"My relations with foreign powers continue to be friendly." Referring to the Italo-Ethiopian crisis, the speech said: "The critical situation which has unhappily arisen between Italy and Ethiopia has aroused my gravest concern."

Exerted Themselves "From the moment that dispute occurred between the two countries my government have exerted themselves to the utmost, both individually and in cooperation with other states, members of the League of Nations, to promote a peaceful settlement."

"To my regret, these persistent endeavors did not avail to prevent a resource to force, and my government have loyally supported the efforts of the League of Nations with a view to restoration of peace and achievement of an equitable settlement in the spirit of the covenant."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—A prompt reply was promised by President Roosevelt today to inquiries about the American attitude toward League of Nations sanctions applied to Italy in the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

The President indicated a feeling that there is room for little discretion in the matter of an answer because this government's position is strictly dictated by the neutrality law.

SCOUTING AIMS TOLD AT CLUB

Members of the Santa Ana Lions club Thursday heard an address on "Scouting" by Oscar Kirkham of Salt Lake City, regional scout executive. Mr. Kirkham was introduced by Harrison White, Orange county scout executive. Justice of the Peace K. E. Morrison was program chairman.

"Scouting, since its inception, has carried with it an international spirit," Mr. Kirkham said. "There are 73 nations in the world today in which Boy Scouts are an institution. We have Boy Scouts in Ethiopia, but I regret to say that there are no Boy Scouts in Italy. Mussolini has set up a program of intense nationalism, and has no room for a program of internationalism at present. The same holds true today in Germany and in Russia."

Mr. Kirkham related many of his experiences with scouts at their international jamborees, which are held every four years. He said that it is apparent that America is still the land of opportunity, and is considered as such by many of the younger generations abroad.

U. S. AND JAPAN SETTLE 'ROW'

TSINGTAO, China, Oct. 25. (AP)—A Japanese-American incident, involving an alleged insult to the Japanese flag by two American sailors, was settled today.

The commander of a United States submarine division here called upon a Japanese naval intelligence officer expressing regret for the incident. He explained that the case, in which the two American sailors were alleged to have pulled down Japanese flags from the front of a restaurant, was under investigation. The American commander said that if the sailors were found to be guilty of the accusation, they would be punished in accordance with United States navy regulations.

MORE ABOUT FOREST FIRE

to start a backfire in an effort to halt the flames at the crest of Corral canyon, southwest of the lake district.

The fire raged at the head of Corral canyon, nine and one-half miles inland from the ocean, and extended to within three miles of the colony of movie homes at the lake.

While county forestry department officials said they could not accurately estimate the damage to the whole of the Malibu district from the fire, it was pointed out that land swept over by the flames on a 10-mile front ranged from $150 an acre for agricultural property, to more than $1,000 an acre for restricted homesites.

Slide Hazard Potential damage from soil erosion will be great, authorities said, and the hazard of slides along the Roosevelt highway from Santa Monica to Oxnard will be apparent with the first heavy rains of the winter. This area of the highway is blocked by slides after rains every winter.

Concern for the safety of the palatial residences of Hollywood film players along the Malibu strand was relieved today when the flames had been beaten back after a fight of several hours by a large force of workers.

Another film settlement, at Malibu La Costa, faces a water shortage, however, as the flames today leaped high up along Malibu creek and swept over the Malibu dam pump house that supplies water for the settlement. Pumps were put out of commission.

Injuries Mounting There have been no casualties directly attributable to the fires, but Robert De Wier of the Alhambra Red Cross, in charge of the emergency hospital in Corral canyon, said at least 10 men an hour were being taken from the fire lines, overcome from smoke or suffering from minor burns.

Richard Hume, Venice business man, died from a heart attack this morning while watching the fire in Las Flores canyon.

J. R. Wimmer of the county forestry department, said the work of re-seeding the burned over area from Rubio canyon to La Canada probably would be started early next week. Mustard seed has been ordered and the United States forest service and the county department will cooperate in the planting, some of which may be dropped from airplanes, but most of which will be by hand.

By re-seeding and the construction of fire lines, department authorities hope to avert much of the danger to the northern foothill area from heavy winter rains.

Prominent members of the movie colony who have homes on the beach watched the battle today. John Boies, Edmund Lowe, Myrna Loy, Leatrice Joy, David Butler, Jack Warner and many others cheered lustily when a back-fire device proved successful. Five hundred workers set the counter-blaze going just across the coast highway which divides the beach resort from a tip of the Malibu foothill section.

The picturesque Thompson ranch, background of many motion pictures and recently a "location" site for the company making "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," with Gary Cooper, was endangered. Threatened, too, was the valuable ranch home of Cecil B. De Mille, noted producer-director. While the flames were two miles away, De Mille sent a force of men to the place to remove furnishings, books, treasurers and many motion picture film prints.

As the major blaze turned to the Malibu country, other fires cropped out in far-removed spots. Fighters took up the battle in Santa Barbara, Ventura and Orange counties. An aggregate of around 10,000 acres was burned over in these sections, with an undetermined acreage burned around Santa Ana, south of Los Angeles. All were out or under control today.

GAS TAX SHARE IS $76,797

California motorists burned more gasoline during the third quarter of the year, and Orange county is going to profit by the increase. The Associated Press yesterday said State Controller Ray Riley announced that gasoline tax revenues reached $10,349,223 for the quarter. Orange county's allotment will be $76,797. The third quarter figure was the largest in the state since 1931, Mr. Riley said.

A diet restricted to vegetables would be equally hard on a fish, Viosca declared. For example, a big-mouthed bass could live for 12 years on a straight vegetable diet and still be a minnow, while an-

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 25. (AP)—Count Luigi Vinci-Giulucci, the Italian minister to Ethiopia, agreed today to leave the country peacefully tomorrow—15 days after Emperor Haile Selassie had sent him his passports and asked him to leave within 48 hours.

HAILE SEES NEW STRENGTH IN ARMY

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 25. (AP)—Ethiopia's former minister of war, Fitawrari Birru, who was once exiled and then pardoned by Emperor Haile Selassie, rode triumphantly into the capital today at the head of an army.

Riding with dash and abandon, the 1000 shrieking Kaffa tribal warriors rushed in review past the King of Kings, who stood admiringly on a balcony of his palace, apparently more confident in the strength of his armies than at any time since the undeclared war with Italy began.

Emperor Haile Selassie also reviewed 10,000 Galla swarmsmen under Dedjematch Aptemariam Gabregziabher.

"O emperor, give us modern rifles so that we may slaughter our enemies," shouted the warriors, throwing down their flintlocks and blunderbusses before the Lion of Judah.

Other warriors performed grim African war dances, brandishing swords and daggers at imaginary enemies in terrifying fashion.

The medieval cavalcade occupied five hours after which the chiefs were received by the emperor who kissed them on both cheeks.

MINUTE MEN TO RESUME CAMPAIGN

The Minute Men of the American Legion post here will resume their campaign of education against radicalism next Monday. Col. M. B. Wellington, chairman of the Legion's Minute Man committee, today announced a schedule of four talks by Calvin Flint, dean of men at the junior college, to be broadcast over KREG.

The Minute Men of the Legion have launched their campaign in the belief that education is the best way to combat radical doctrines. If the facts are known about the American form of government, in comparison to Communist forms, they believe there will be little danger from advocates of these doctrines.

Mr. Flint's talks will be given at 7:15 p. m. each Monday for four weeks. He also is instructor in international relations and industrial history of Europe at the college. Almost every year since 1928 he has traveled in Europe, having been in virtually every country on that continent. Last summer he was in Russia. He has taught at Roberts' College, Istanbul, Turkey.

The first three talks of the series will cover conditions in Soviet Russia, showing the effect of propaganda, why the Russian people are communistic, and how tourists are treated. The final talk will be on the subject of American neutrality and why it is important today.

JOHN JOBMAN

LOUIS SCHLESINGER

BOB MONROE

When you think of Plymouth think of the Dodge and Chrysler dealers, L. D. COFFING CO., 311 East Fifth Street, Santa Ana. Then see the New Plymouth at our salesroom.

To each person the New Plymouth means a different delight, yet you will agree with me on one thing, that this New Plymouth is the very peak of perfection.

Don't fail to see this amazing new car now!

EDDIE DOLAN

ALDEN MORSE

HARRY JOHNSON

I'm looking at the New 1936 Plymouth through the glasses of a Used Car Salesman. Plymouth, in previous models, is the most desirable low-priced car to be found on our used car lot at Fifth and Spurgeon because it's the best engineered car.

But today hundreds of people are acclaiming the New 1936 Plymouth as the peak of perfection. It is without question the finest car Plymouth ever built.

Plymouth has always built great cars. But here is a New Plymouth that is longer, lower and wider. And the most brushy sturdy safety-steel body in history, masked in delicate elegance of design and trim. Here are genuine Hydraulic Brakes at a new peak of perfection. The finest brakes made. See this New 1936 Plymouth—the most perfect car, in the lowest price class—at 311 East Fifth street.

Yes, there are surprises ahead for you. Just let me present the beautiful New 1936 Plymouth to you at 311 East Fifth street, Santa Ana.

I've seen the New 1936 Models and Plymouth again sets the pace. Here is the perfect value, and an absolutely thrilling luxury. The World's most economical full-sized car, with startling performance. A new floating ride with the quick action of genuine hydraulic brakes.

Come to L. D. COFFING CO., 311 East Fifth street, and let me explain why.

The New 1936 Plymouth is Here!

SPURGEON STREET

FIFTH STREET

Come in and see it Today

WHEN you see the new 1936 Plymouth you'll agree that never before was there such a beautiful low price car. And this new Plymouth is also the biggest—the longest, lowest and widest car Plymouth ever built.

Interiors are of the finest—with rich new upholstery and important new driving conveniences.

The new Safety-Steel body has new reinforcements and new quietness. It is insulated from the frame with sound-deadening rubber. The genuine Hydraulic Brakes are improved to a new peak of perfection. And the famous Plymouth Floating Ride has been perfected with a new sway eliminator and a new twice-as-rigid frame.

And again, with super-high compression made possible by the smoothness of Floating Power engine mountings, Plymouth is the most economical full size car in America. Come in and see it today! On display at salesroom.

LEAGUE of Municipalities wonderings—Why put three men with such names at the speakers' table? Flaherty, Hogue and Mulholland. "Mike" Hogue, area mayor and head of the association for the past year, between R. D. Flaherty, farm bureau, and Dan Mulholland, big WPA man of the county. Where does Mayor "Billy" Hale of Fullerton get those "seagars"? They look like special ones, with a queer white band. Incidentally, remarks were cast about Mayor Hale losing some clothing at the state meeting at San Francisco recently. Worth investigating.

BIG MYSTERY of the meeting: What did Gordon Richmond, Orange city attorney, do with the paper cup which was part of the dinner equipment? Fellow diners insisted he ate it. Vehement denials on his part did no good. Zealous Orange councilmen threatening to remove all checkable furnishings out of reach. Members grateful that there were not any paper napkins.

MUNICIPALITY musings: Dr. Brunemeyer, Placentia councilman, must've needed sleep. Caught up on some that he'd missed while speakers orated. "Hap" Haggood, Anaheim's engineer, knows everybody. Made a complete round of the room, shaking hands. Some unkind soul wondered, out loud, if perhaps he'd lost his pipe again? Orange city council smokes lots of cigars—especially Mayor Hessel and Cal Lester. They wanted protection and so brought along Chief of Police George Franz. Al Launer, Fullerton city attorney and secretary of the league, makes a good report. Bet it took the combined efforts of Fred Hezmalhalch, Herman Hiltcher, Charles Johnson, T. K. Gowen and Mayor Hale, all Fullerton officials, to keep George Lillie, councilman, from going after fish displayed in Aquarium cafe. Who was it remarked about the lights still being on in San Clemente?

GREAT interest in the cafe's display of fish. We were chiefly charmed by a sturgeon. He had superb control and, apparently, a sense of humor. He'd start at the bottom of his tank and swim straight upward. When his nose hit the air, he'd go into a tailspin and sink downward. Just before his tail hit bottom, he'd reverse and start back up again. Seemed to sense interest of some well known city officials in his maneuvers, because he was at it most of the evening. Funniest of all, he was right behind George Bates, engineer. Many times he'd sink from sight behind George's head and then peek out as if he'd played a joke.

THE MAYOR'S horseshoe business got off to a good start last night, under the guiding hand of Harry Welch, who promised suitable prizes. Officials seemed very interested in the tournament. We're official drawing on our prediction that Billy Hale will win the event, due to his remark that he never pitched horseshoes in his life. Mike Hogue warns that no secret practicing by mayors will be allowed. Think he aimed that at Mayor Smith, San Clemente, who's his first opponent in the tourney.

FULLERTON MAN IS ELECTED HEAD OF MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

W. L. HALE IS UNANIMOUS CHOICE

County League Hears of Sewage Reclamation At San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE.—W. L. Hale, mayor of Fullerton, was elected president of the Orange County League of Municipalities at a meeting held in the Aquarium cafe here last night.

Other officials for the coming year are Albert Launer, who was reelected secretary and Mayor Fred Rowland of Santa Ana, vice president. All selections were unanimous.

Featured at the meeting were talks by R. D. Flaherty, farm bureau official, who explained relationship between city government and ranchers and by C. Gordon Beisel, sewage reclamation expert, who told of operation of the experimental disposal plant in Santa Ana.

Mr. Beisel explained operation of the reclamation plant, telling members that, after a year of operation, experts felt ready to show that irrigation water can be pumped from plants to ranches at a cost of about $14 an acre foot. He explained operation of the Santa Ana plant and told of recommendations for establishment of two large units for the county, one possibly southwest of Santa Ana and other near Anaheim and Fullerton.

If two such plants were established, he said, the Santa Ana unit could easily dispose of the reclaimed water to surrounding ranchers, while it might be necessary to use water from the northern plant for spreading purposes. He stressed the fact that the district is at present losing 5,000,000 gallons of water daily and told how it could be saved through the reclamation system.

Questioned as to cost of operating such a plant, Mr. Beisel said that the cost would be negligible, as in reality the system was only a large building filled with filtering rock. Members of the league were invited to visit the experimental plant by the speaker.

In his talk on county-band city government, Mr. Flaherty stressed the need of county departments justifying their existence. The board of supervisors has enough powers to require this, he said, as they set salaries of officials and the number of their deputies. The present system of police protection for ranchers is not adequate, he said. Accessibility of agricultural district to thieves, due to the county's system of roads calls for more protection, he added. He concluded his talk with an offer to work with officials of cities for consideration of their mutual problems.

Dan Mulholland of San Clemente, county WPA director, reported that 930 men have started work on county projects since the first of October and that many projects are being started. Larger works are being given first consideration, with smaller projects to follow, he added.

Members of the league adopted a resolution presented by Mayor Charles H. Mann of Anaheim agreeing to a raise in dues for membership in the state league.

As the date for the November meeting falls on Thanksgiving, the board of directors will make plans for another date, it was decided. Members offered a vote of thanks to L. A. Hogue for his work as president of the organization for the past year.

and displayed a family tree. The document was officially stamped and sealed, and bore such details as "grandmother, Elsa von Freudenfels; great-grandmother, Edith von Freudenfels; great-grandfather, Dagobert von Blasenburg." When the police investigated they found this was the pedigree of a prize dog.

Conflict Becomes 'Holy War'

Backed by the head of the Ethiopian Coptic church, Emperor Haile Selassie has proclaimed the fight against Italy's invasion a "holy war," asking the hundreds of powerful priests in the country (such as above), to rouse the populace. Capture of the Ethiopian holy city, Aksum, led to the proclamation. (Associated Press Photo)

SPANISH FIESTA SLATED San Clemente To Celebrate

SAN CLEMENTE.—Plans for a gigantic Old Spanish Days celebration here Nov. 29, 30 and Dec. 1 have been announced by Mayor A. T. Smith.

The Spanish Village will return to old Spain for atmosphere for the fiesta, according to Mayor Smith, who today announced many events planned for the celebration. San Clemente members of the Riviera of America association are in charge of arrangements, it was announced.

Plans include a motion picture golf tournament; a barbecue, in charge of Joe Mendez, famed expert from the San Diego exposition; many roping and riding events, which will be included in a three-day rodeo.

Another event of interest planned for Nov. 30 is a "days of '49" dance, planned by the San Clemente Men's club. Proceeds of this annual event will be devoted to purchase of Christmas presents for children of San Clemente.

ORANGE CHURCH GROUP HEARS TALK ON CITIZENSHIP

ORANGE.—Mrs. Roy Buckles was program chairman at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Missionary society of the Methodist church, giving a talk on what women may do to improve living conditions.

The subject of the day was "Citizenship," and Mrs. Buckles said that by use of the ballot for reform, such as outlawing child labor, by jury service, and service to organizations, seeking reform, could women make the world a better place.

Miss James Wingett led the study period and Miss Eleanor Kolkhurst sang, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. L. A. Bortz, president of the group, presided.

PENSION CLUB PLANS HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT GROVE

GARDEN GROVE.—With members of clubs of other cities invited to attend a Halloween party, planned by the Garden Grove Townsend club next Monday evening at the Legion hall, is expected to be largely attended.

Sunday the local club members will go to Fullerton to attend the mass meeting being held at the Legion hall at 1 p. m., simultaneously with other clubs throughout the nation. The day marks the closing of the first national convention.

GROVE CIRCLE MEETS IN CHURCH

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. J. M. Chilton was hostess to members of Circle No. 2 of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church Wednesday. After devotions by Mrs. E. R. Schneider and a short business meeting conducted by Mrs. E. P. Williams, the afternoon was spent sewing on pot-holders and dish cloths.

A general meeting of all circles at the church in November was announced. Plans were made for serving dinner Friday evening when the district Young Women's Foreign Missionary society rally will be held at the Garden Grove church. Mrs. Wesley Lamb assisted in serving refreshments.

Other members present were Mesdames J. C. Mitchell, Elmer Hall, Conrad Schreff, Maggie Mae Reed, Elmer Landers, Robert McDonald, R. E. Geren, W. W. Dungan and Charles Edwards.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CLASS HAS SOCIAL MEETING

ORANGE.—The "Whatsoever" class of the Presbyterian church held its monthly social meeting yesterday afternoon in the church parlors, with Mesdames Alice Durrer, Jane Scuse, Florence Beal, Sara Meyers and Lucy Robinson as hostesses.

Refreshments were served to the following class members and guests: Mesdames Anna Crawford, Carletta Baker, Lulu Shoemaker, Marie Jensen, Jane Brown, Emma Hohadel, Julia Campbell, Minnie Thompson, Sue Brownlee, Margaret Wheeler, Perry Heikes, Ida Davis, Hanna Gardner, Anna Bennett, Melissa Johnson, and Miss Adele Dutton and Miss Mabel Post. Two guests, Mrs. Lelia Jacobs and Mrs. Mary Rounds, Alhambra, were present.

GROVE COUPLE'S WEDDING IN YUMA IS ANNOUNCED

GARDEN GROVE.—Coming as a surprise to friends, the marriage of Miss Cornelia Hogue to Lester Kunkel was announced today. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hogue of West Stanford avenue and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kunkel of Wright street.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the Foursquare Gospel church at Yuma, Ariz., Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The couple were unattended. The bride's parents accompanied them to Yuma and were present for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel both attended the Garden Grove High school and she later attended the John Brown school in Arkansas. They will make their home in Garden Grove.

MOTHERS' CIRCLE SCHEDULES MEET AT GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE.—"Play and Its Place in the Pre-School Child's Life" will be discussed next Wednesday at the study circle for mothers of children of pre-school age which the Garden Grove Grammar school P-T-A. is sponsoring. The class meets at 10 a. m. at the Washington school. Discussion will be led by Mrs. A. Elderson. The meeting scheduled for this week was canceled due to inclement weather.

Continued drought has caused heavy crop losses in Argentina.

MAYORCONTEST RULES TOLD

SAN CLEMENTE.—Mayors may be able to shoot dice, spin a mean yarn or smack a golf ball, but for the next three or four weeks unless they can pitch a horseshoe, they are going to be out of the picture in Orange county, it was revealed at the meeting of the County League of Municipalities here last night.

Harry Welch, Newport Harbor chamber of commerce secretary, explained plans for a county-wide horseshoe contest between mayors and other city officials, members of the board of supervisors and a representative of the county press association. Mayors seemed enthusiastic about the idea and plan to enter the contest almost to a man, according to Mr. Welch.

The plan calls for man-to-man competition, starting Nov. 9 on courts at Newport. On that date, 16 entrants will play in the first round. On the following Saturday, the remainder of entrants will compete, with finals and a "Dutch treat" dinner scheduled for Nov. 23. Contestants were drawn for competition, with mayors required to name a member of their city council as "No. 2 man" from each community. The pairings follow:

Mayor C. J. Hessel, Orange vs. Mayor Charles Mann, Anaheim; Mayor Charles Newsum, La Habra vs. Supervisor N. E. West; Mayor E. J. Hughes, Seal Beach vs. La Habra No. 2 man; Seal Beach No. 2 vs. Supervisor John Mitchell; Mayor A. T. Smith, San Clemente vs. Mayor L. A. "Mike" Hogue, Brea; Fullerton No. 2 vs. Placentia No. 2; Tustin No. 2 vs. San Clemente No. 2; Supervisor W. C. Jerome vs. press representative; Supervisor Willard Smith vs. Mayor Frank Champion, Laguna Beach; Mayor Herman Hillmer, Newport vs. Mayor Fred Rowland, Santa Ana; Laguna Beach No. 2 vs. Mayor Tom Talbert, Huntington Beach; Santa Ana No. 2 vs. Newport No. 2; Mayor W. L. Hale, Fullerton vs. Huntington Beach No. 2; Orange No. 2 vs. Brea No. 2; Supervisor LeRoy Lyon vs. Mayor C. R. Young, Placentia and Mayor William Huntley, Tustin, vs. Anaheim No. 2 man.

Billy Hengold will furnish an eight-piece orchestra. Plans are in charge of Lee Channess, "Frenchy" De La Verne and Lester Grant.

WESTMINSTER.—Members of the Principals' and Teachers' association of Orange county will hold their October meeting in Westminster next Monday. A potluck supper will be served at 5:30 p. m., followed by the program.

Suspect Saved From Leap by Would-Be Victim

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 25. (AP)—Coming home unexpectedly, Lawyer Harry Ray told police he found a man hidden in a closet. The intruder made a break for a window.

"Don't jump," Ray said he cried. "There's no fire escape there." The thief halted; Ray led him to a window with a fire escape, and the thief left, empty handed but grateful. It was four flights to the street.

MARY'S LAMB STEPS OUT ROTARY HAS A BIRTHDAY AT ORANGE

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Mary may have had a little lamb, but when the lamb grew up, it sought other companions.

At least, that's the local version. "Wooley," a sheep on the W. T. Newland ranch near here, is "pals" with "Andrew," aged goose.

Side by side they wander over the 500-acre ranch. Side by side they snuggle as they sleep in the old red barn. Wherever "Andrew," the gander, wanders, there "Wooley" wanders, too. They drink from the same watering trough and ignore all other livestock on the farm. Andrew scorns another gray goose, which is compelled to seek chickens for his friends.

Two years ago Wooley was born on the ranch, and at the same time Andrew was hatched. Wooley wandered around the farm with his mother until one day when it rained and the little lamb was drenched. He was put into the barn to dry out and get away from the windy blasts. There he found the gosling. They became fast friends, and ever since that day have been constant companions.

Almost every night Wooley and Andrew try to keep the turkeys and chickens from going to roost in "their" barn. A fierce battle ensues, and Mrs. Newland and her daughter, Frances Newland, try to stop the melee with sticks. Several turkeys and chickens have been killed during the battles.

Sometimes the other gray goose joins the pair as the fight proceeds. But he's not a "pal" like Andrew and Wooley.

BEACH LEGION SLATES DANCE

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—The Huntington Beach American Legion will stage the biggest dance the organization has ever sponsored when a Halloween dance is held in Memorial hall, Oct. 30, according to R. F. Patrick, commander of Joseph Rodman Post.

Billy Hengold will furnish an eight-piece orchestra. Plans are in charge of Lee Channess, "Frenchy" De La Verne and Lester Grant.

This knitted square—a simple exercise in knitting, one that even a beginner can master—is excellent pick-up work. Before you know it, you'll find the squares just rolling off your needles. Though made of string they are lacy and soft and so are quite the thing for an in-between cloth with matching scarfs, a tea cloth, a cushion, a bedspread, a buffet set to mention but a few uses. The plain knitting contrasts with the open lacy stitch.

In pattern 5462 you will find complete instructions for making the square shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

THE RUUD Automatic

Gives You Plenty of HOT WATER Upstairs and Down

The RUUD Improved Model

An underfired automatic storage water heater of quick heating power that heats and stores water in the strong, heavily-insulated tank so that hot water will be ready as needed. Automatic replenishment of hot water drawn at the faucet is accomplished by the RUUD Moment Valve, which economically matches the gas flow to the quantity of hot water used. 20, 30 and 45 gallon sizes. Tanks of copper or galvanized iron, as you select.

The RUUD Continuous Flow

A direct-action water heater (no tank). Gas flow and water heating start and stop automatically, with the opening and closing of the faucet. Water is instantly heated as it flows through long copper coils; the pure, rust-free supply cannot be exhausted. You control the gas bill for fuel consumption in direct ratio to hot water drawn. Made in five sizes for all homes and many commercial institutions.

The RUUD Autotank C. C.

An underfired automatic storage water heater with customer control of the gas bill through the C. C. burner and its three selective gas-burning rates. By a simple adjustment of the burner you can change the quantity of water heated, and with it the amount of gas to be burned. Thus you measure both your hot water supply and your fuel expense. 20, 30 and 50 gallon sizes. Your selection of copper or galvanized iron tanks.

NAB WIFE OF MURDERED GANGMAN

Schultz's Mate Will Be Questioned; 4 Mobsters Die After Shooting

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 25. (AP)—Newark police held the young widow of Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Fliegenheimer today in the hope she can supply some clue in a sweeping search for the assassins of the gang chieftain and three henchmen.

The 21-year-old woman, Mrs. Frances Fliegenheimer, was booked as a material witness last night, less than three hours after Schultz died of the wounds inflicted by rival gang bullets.

The racketeer himself, overlord of the beer business in the Bronx during prohibition and one of the last of the big time underworld leaders, gave the police no help.

He died at 8:35 p. m. yesterday in City hospital, deliciously mumbling words which those by his bedside could not understand.

Bernard Rosenkrantz, Schultz' chauffeur and one of the quartet mowed down in a cafe gun battle Wednesday night, died early today.

Otto Berman and Abraham Landau, alias Leo Frank, the other members of Schultz' party, preceded their leader in death.

Martin Krompfer, who met a hail of bullets in a New York barber shop about two weeks after the Newark shooting, was in a critical condition in a New York hospital.

New York detectives pressed their search for Albert Stein, 21-year-old mobster suspected of several recent killings in the outbreak of gang warfare in the metropolitan area.

Gangster Sought

Charles Luciano, described by New York officials as "the most powerful gangster in Manhattan," also was sought for questioning.

Police believed the attempt to wipe out the Schultz gang was a move of rival mobs to gain control of rackets estimated to produce as much as $100,000,000 a year in revenue in the metropolitan district.

Deputy Police Chief John Halperin, Newark, after ordering Mrs. Fliegenheimer held in the women's jail at police headquarters over night, said the widow would be questioned "on apparent discrepancies in what she told us."

RUPPERT FEARS 'DRY' BATTLE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25. (AP)—Col. Jake Ruppert, New York baseball magnate, who is beginning his 15th term as president of the United States Brewers' association, believes this organization rather than the Democrats responsible for repeal of prohibition.

"The association board of directors had made a long fight for repeal," Colonel Ruppert told the organization's convention here, "and I believe the Democratic party finally realized that to be elected it had to get on the wet side."

"I do not want to detract from the efforts and accomplishments, however, of President Roosevelt and the party."

The brewers' association accepted his warning that there is "a great fight ahead, because here and there prohibitionists again are coming to the fore," and before adjournment yesterday voted to meet the attack.

DEBATERS WORK TOWARD EVENTS FOR CONTESTS

Preparing for participation in the first round of eastern division junior college debates, seven students in the argumentation course are working on questions for the debates, according to Robert S. Farrar, instructor.

Members of the class are Kenneth Stowell and Gordon Bishop, Orange; Bessie Burles, Long Beach; Morris Christy, Maxwell, Iowa; and Lawrence Nowlan, Alfred Oliphant and Leo Snedaker, Santa Ana. Students other than members of the class may compete for positions on the team by applying to Mr. Farrar.

The first round of debates will be held before Christmas, although no definite time has yet been selected. Two teams, an affirmative and a negative, will be chosen to compete in each debate. Santa Ana will meet Citrus, San Bernardino, Riverside, Pomona, Chaffey and Fullerton junior colleges. A second round of debates will be held in the spring.

The Santa Ana jaysce team plans to enter the Pi Delta Kappa, forensic society tournament to be held at the College of the Pacific at Stockton in March.

INSISTS IN MURDER PLEA

Insisting that he killed a witch, Mkozi, a native in Bulawayo, South Africa, must die. When the judge at first refused to accept the plea of guilty on a charge of murder, Mkozi declined to enter the witness stand and persisted that he had committed the crime. His attorney questioned Mkozi and elicited the story that the woman the man had killed with an axe had told him she had bewitched six of his relatives who had died within the last year. Mkozi seemed unconcerned when the sentence of death was passed.

CALIF. LABOR'S WAGE IS 2ND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—The average monthly farm wage in California on Oct. 1 is reported by the bureau of agricultural economics as $62—a figure exceeded only by Rhode Island's average of $66.25 and far above the national average of $31.62.

Lowest paid farm laborers in the nation were those of South Carolina, with an average monthly pay check of only $15.50.

Closely pressing Rhode Island and California for top honors were Utah, whose farm hands averaged $55; Massachusetts, $54.75; Nevada, $54.25; Connecticut, $53.50; Montana, $51.75; and Arizona, $50.75.

Wages in the Pacific coast states were shown to be higher than in any other area. The bureau reported an average of $57.27 for that section. The average for the mountain states was $46.85.

In California the average pay with board for farm labor was $29 a month. The national average with board was $20.57. In Nevada, the average was $38.50 and in Arizona, $37.25.

124-FOOT TREE SAVED IN S. B.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 25. (AP)—The second widest spread tree in the country, the 124-foot "rubber" tree on Southern Pacific property here at Chapala and Montecito streets planted by Adeline Crabb in 1877, is to be saved from destruction.

Maunsel Van Rensselaer, assistant director of the Blakesley Botanic Garden, says the tree is exceeded in spread by only one other tree on earth, the Sir Joseph Hooker Oak in Chico, Calif.

Citizens and public utility companies interested in preserving the old tree have agreed to handle the necessary work. The Telephone company, the Southern California Telephone company, and the Southern California Edison company will cooperate in removing nearby wires, some of which now go through the tree's branches. Arrangements have been made through the tree's branches. Arrangements have been made through the tree's branches. Arrangements have been made through the tree's branches.

Wanted: Lullaby For Too Active London Oysters

LONDON, Oct. 25. (AP)—English oysters are so wide awake they won't go to bed.

Two British women scientists are hard at work trying to solve that knotty problem, seeking a "biological lullaby" to cure insomnia among the bivalves.

"Young oysters swim around for a short period before permanently anchoring themselves," explained Dr. Margery Knight, "but in recent years oyster beds on the British coast have become seriously depleted. The oysters simply won't go to bed."

Dr. Knight and her co-worker, Dr. Mary Parker of Liverpool university, hope to establish artificial beds of oysters in the laboratory at the Manx biological station, Port Erin.

Clonmel, Irish Free State, has banned all bread not baked there.

POULTRY GROUP PICKS WOLFERT

A. L. Wolfert, Cypress, was elected chairman of the farm bureau poultry department at a meeting in the farm bureau hall here last night. He succeeds A. H. Heineman, Olive. O. L. Cramer, Anaheim, was named vice chairman, and E. F. Zimmer, Anaheim, was chosen to represent the department on the farm bureau board of directors.

The department adopted a resolution urging a 50 per cent excise tax on imported egg products and eggs. The resolution said importation of these products jeopardizes American producers.

The officers and director elected last night, with Frank Jones, Santa Ana, A. F. Schroeder, Orange, and A. S. Walker, Yorba Linda, were elected as delegates to the seven southern counties poultry department of the farm bureau.

SINGER BEATEN, SUSPECT HELD

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25. (AP)—Sally Sweet, 21, burlesque singer, was in a hospital today with critical injuries, and police arrested Frank Zampini, 31, pianist, on charges of assault.

Zampini, known professionally as Frank de Armond, admitted he had argued with Miss Sweet over the singing of a song. Police Inspector Harold Jackson said, but denied he had beaten the girl.

Miss Sweet collapsed during a performance yesterday and was taken to a hospital. Jackson apprehended Zampini and the singer identified him, the officer stated, as her alleged attacker.

"Take him away," the girl screamed from her hospital bed, Jackson said. "Oh, don't let him hit me again."

Zampini emphatically denied he had struck Miss Sweet.

Zampini told Jackson an argument occurred in the dressing room in the presence of his wife, Patsy O'Neill, 23, also a member of the "Life Begins at Minsky's" show cast, over Miss Sweet's singing of his song.

CORN WANTED

Farmers in the vicinity of Sutsien, China, may be taught a raise corn, according to the American method. Now they harvest it before it is ripe, shell it with infinite labor and spend the rest of the summer and most of the autumn in drying it in the sun to prevent mould. Experts are expected to visit them and try to induce them to let the ears remain on the stalks until ripe, according to the American idea.

FARMER POLL CRUCIAL ON AAA POLICY

Corn and Hog Growers Vote Tomorrow on Program's Future

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—The administration is "going to the country" tomorrow in a nation-wide referendum to determine whether corn and hog growers want continued the adjustment program for those commodities.

An adverse vote, officials say, would throw production wide open. Unlike other major crops, corn and hogs are grown so widely that elections will be held in every state in the union. Farmers who have not participated in the adjustment program will be eligible to vote along with the contract-signers. Government sources estimate there are more than 4,500,000 corn and hog growers in the country and that more than 3,000,000 of these are engaged in production on a commercial scale.

Fear Huge Production
The referendum attended as it is by European war scares and the emerging prospect of coincident great new foreign markets, is frankly regarded by AAA executives as the most crucial they ever have held, on the theory that if farmers ever are likely to demand heavier production this is the time.

Both Secretary Wallace and AAA Administrator Davis, however, have publicly exhibited concern lest farmers seek again the huge production of the World war days—a production which Davis says brought a "moment of false prosperity and then brought 1921 and the long shoddy march of the years that led up to the dark days of 1932 and 1933."

By Secret Ballot
This election, upon which depends the future of a program that has poured more than $300,000,000 into farmers' pockets in rental and benefit payments, will be conducted by secret ballot, not to be signed by the voter. He will be asked to answer yes or no to the question—"Do you favor a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1935 program which expires Nov. 30, 1935?"—and to signify whether he is a cooperating grower. Polling places, to be established at community centers, will be open from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Hundreds of thousands of leaflets entitled, "Shall corn-hog adjustment continue?" are being distributed. These leaflets bear a table saying corn was 32 cents a bushel in 1932-33, and 82 cents a bushel in 1934-35; that hogs were $3.36 per hundred pounds in 1932-33, and $7.10 per hundred pounds in 1934-35.

'ABC Quadruplets' Not to Have Any Screen Tests, Says Mother

The Morlok quadruplets are growing up and although they still are so identical it is next to impossible for strangers to identify them, their mother insists that they are developing very individual traits. Left to right, they are Helen D., Wilma B., Sarah C. and Edna A. They are five years old now.

By WILLIAM R. MULLER
LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The Morlok quadruplets have gone out into the world but if they want to be movie stars they will have to wait until they are old enough to choreograph their own "yes."

For almost four hours each day, the blond, hazel-eyed daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Morlok are attending their first kindergarten course. Their names are Edna A., Sarah B., Wilma C. and Helen D.

The parents have been asked to allow screen tests of the children but have refused. Mrs. Morlok is firm in her insistence their fame shall not be commercialized and Papa Carl backs her up.

"If the children ever want to go on the stage, they can do so when they are old enough to make their own choice," Mrs. Morlok explains. "Right now, it's hard enough for us to let them go around the corner to school."

The ABCD Babies
To the mother, who has had them constantly at her side since they were born in Edward W. Sparrow hospital, May 19, 1930, sharing her babies with the world, even if it's only for four hours' school a day, is proving a sharp experience. She fears that school somehow may separate them from each other and from their family.

"I want them to look just different enough so that Carl and I can tell them apart," Mrs. Morlok says. But she admits that her four perfectly normal and healthy daughters are developing individual traits. She points out those differences to herself from day to day.

When the children were born, nurses at the hospital labeled them A, B, C, D, in the order in which they arrived. Mrs. Morlok appended the initials to their first names.

Edna A. has become the leader in all their games and lessons, Mrs. Morlok says. It is Sarah C. who is the mother to the other three, who comforts them when they cry, who acts as the balance wheel and smooths out difficulties.

Wilma B. is the comic character of the four, and from her flow most of the witty sayings which the family repeats. Helen D. is the sensitive one.

They are agreeable to having tooth brushes in different shades and carrying handkerchiefs with differing patterns, but that ends the concessions to differences in outward appearances.

If one of the quadruplets wears a hole in her stocking and needs a new one, too. If one has a cold, all seem to catch it. If one plays outdoors, all must play with her.

A Sensation at School
Their entrance to kindergarten was a near-sensation. Little playmates squeezed to sit between or beside them and followed the quadruplets about the grounds while at play. The quadruplets had been trained to read the alphabet and print it before going to school. Since each wishes to be like the others, a keen sense of competition develops when one learns a new thing before the others.

The children have never had a serious illness, or a serious injury, although Helen D. spent a few days in an "incubator" after her birth.

Morlok is busy directing his campaign for re-election as city constable. In previous years, Lansing voters have considered the "quads" four good reasons why he should hold a public job. Morlok considers them excellent reasons, since the only income the family has is his constable's salary.

'SCIENCE' TOPIC AT CLUB MEET

With "Science" as its general topic, El Camino Toastmasters' club began its winter season last evening at James cafe with several visitors present. Ralph Smedley, known as the "Father of Toastmasters' clubs," was honorary toastmaster of the evening, yielding his place to Dwight Hamilton, visiting toastmaster from Smedley club No. 1. Mr. Hamilton, former president of his own club, introduced the speakers.

Ernest S. Wooster, asserting that his topic was "Political Science," assailed the Republican party and eulogized the Democratic national administration. He was accused by his critic, Gus Allen, of departing from the subject of the evening.

Dr. R. E. Watson spoke on the changes of opinion of scientists, and W. F. Cuddy for the science of taxation as his topic, urging a study of taxes upon his hearers.

What scientific methods may do in agriculture was presented by Fred Mansur, who astonished his audience by telling of the prodigious yield of tomatoes in a small space under artificial conditions.

Ted Blanding was critic for Dr. Watson, Roy Coleman for Mr. Cuddy, W. S. Jolyette for Mr. Mansur, and Glenn Tidball as general critic. Teams entered into an attendance contest were dubbed Windjammers and Blowhards, captained respectively by Malcolm Macurda and E. M. "Sunny" Sundquist. The contest will close on Christmas day.

JOBS OPEN FOR CIVILIANS IN U. S. AIR SERVICE

Opportunity is offered young men to secure civilian positions, under civil service, in the United States air service, according to Frank Cannon, secretary of the board of U. S. civil service examiners at the postoffice here. Application forms and information relative to requirements may be obtained through Mr. Cannon. All applications must be filed in San Francisco not later than Nov. 13, he said.

The positions for which competitive examinations will be held are: Aircraft mechanic, junior aircraft mechanic, aircraft welder, junior aircraft instrument mechanic and junior aircraft sheet metal worker. The examination will be for the purpose of filling vacancies in the air service of the war department, for duty at Rockwell Field, Coronado, Cal.; Luke Field, Territory of Hawaii, and vacancies in the states of California, Arizona, Nevada and Territory of Hawaii.

TRAVEL SECTION TO HAVE PROGRAM THIS EVENING

Third travel section of Santa Ana Elbell club will entertain husbands and friends of its members at a program in which Thomas E. Glenn will speak this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the clubhouse Peacock room.

Mr. Glenn will discuss Cambridge, Oxford and the Shakespeare country in England. He will show pictures.

Mesdames F. P. Nickey, Perry E. Lewis, Sam Y. Nau and Minnie Holmes will be hostesses.

LET'S READ A NEW BOOK!

Book Reviews from the Public Library

By VERA RAMSEY
NO TRAVELER RETURNS, by Joseph Auslander.
Joseph Auslander is one of the most lyrical of the modern poets. William Rose Benet says that the Elizabethans would have recognized his gifts. Yet Auslander has written intensely graphic poems of the modern world. The present volume contains over a 160 poems, which the poet considers the best of his writings during the past six years.

As a poet of description, whether of nature or emotion, Auslander excels. Love and beauty are his favorite themes. He is a poet who holds it to be the foremost duty of a poet to distill and scatter beauty. Nevertheless he is a poet with intelligence too. He possesses much intellectual virtue added to his powerful rhythmic language.

FADRALE RHYTHM called Auslander "a troubadour who has slipped into the New World." He is a singer who has not forgotten the old songs, but who can also hear the music of the modern world.

ROLL RIVER, by James Boyd. In this novel James Boyd departs from the historic America which he has described in his earlier books. He writes as convincingly of today and yesterday.

"Roll River" begins in the 1880's. The scene is Midian, a Pennsylvania city, where a singer of a great river. The characters belong to the "old families" of the town. They are well-to-do, conservative, hard workers, hearty, lovers of good horses and healthy outdoor life, and jealous of the integrity of their social life.

RIPE BREADFRUIT, by Armine Von Tempski. This is the story of a beautiful Hawaiian estate, Lani-o-aku, and the mysterious power it cast over the lives of the people who lived there.

BRONCHO CHARLIE, by Gladys Erskine. This is the life story of the last of the Pony Express riders.

FIRE ON THE ANDES, by Carleton Beals. Peru is that amazingly rich country where flourished the oldest and greatest civilization in the world. The author of this book tells the story of ancient and modern Peru.

WINTER IN TAOS, by Mabel Dodge Luhan. The narrative begins and ends with the quiet winter of Taos. In the course of the account, the author remembers and tells about the whole round of activities, during the year.

INSPIRATION VALLEY, by Coningsby Dawson. Inspiration valley lies in the Canadian Rockies and is inhabited by English ranchers on the one side and by a fanatical Russian sect, the Dukhobors, on the other.

FRONTIERS NURSES, by Ernest Poole. This is a dramatic story of the organization and work of the frontier nurses in the Kentucky mountains.

SWEET LAND, by Lewis Gannett. Lewis Gannett tells how he, his wife, and his 14-year-old son, discovered America, exploring by Ford the byways.

CANNIBAL COUSINS, by John H. Craige. Captain Craige tells fascinating stories of the superstitions of Haitian peasants and the poetic and passionate villainies of the Haitian politicians.

This county, known as "Marvelous Marin," is a lovely portion of the Redwood Empire and one of the most picturesque counties in California. With its woods and hills, gardens and trees, surrounded on three sides by the Pacific ocean and San Francisco and San Pablo bays, Marin is a land of beautiful homes. Almost in its center stands Mount Tamalpais at the base of which are the world famous Muir Woods, named in honor of John Muir, the naturalist.

In this great grove of redwoods are trees ranging in age from 500 to 300 years. The tribe naming Mount Tamalpais is a matter of controversy. Some insist it was the Lacututs, while the Smithsonian Institute has given its choice to the name "Hookoekos." Some believe the name came from the Nicasio tribe, but whatever the tribal name, it generally is conceded that the Indians called their land "Tama" — the word from which is derived Mount Tamalpais and Tomales Bay.

In 1579, Sir Francis Drake entered the harbor now known as Drake's Bay, visible from Tamalpais, where he made repairs to his Ye Golden Hinde and obtained provisions.

Marin is one of the counties leading in the production of farm and dairy products. General farming and cultivation of orchards are carried on although the agricultural area is limited. Population 41,648. Area: 529 square miles.

Four different organizations of the United Brethren church will hold social gatherings this evening.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society will hold a Halloween social at the home of Doris June and Earl Mustard, 414 S. Garnsey. Miss Ellen Tillotson's Sunday school class of intermediate girls will hold a social at the home of the teacher, 949 W. Myrtle.

The Berean adult Sunday school class will have a party at the church, and at the same time and place the Otterbein brotherhood will meet. The latter organization has for a topic, "Making America Christian." G. R. Grout is the president.

T. B. TALKS WILL BE BROADCAST

Preceding the annual sale of Christmas seals by the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association, a series of educational programs will be broadcast daily from Oct. 29 to Nov. 2, except Sunday and Monday, over radio station KREG, according to an announcement today. The Fullerton Toastmaster will supply speakers. The programs will be broadcast at 12:05 p. m. each day.

The purpose of the broadcasts, according to officials of the Orange county association, which is sponsoring the series, is to educate the public on the importance of the fight against tuberculosis.

Education of the public is the fundamental purpose of the Orange county group, which is financed through the sale of Christmas seals. Officers of the association, in urging cooperation in the seal sale campaign, declare that if modern knowledge about the disease were properly applied by the public, the plague could be wiped out almost overnight.

JUNIORS OF LEGION AUXILIARY HAVE SPOOKS' PARTY

Spooks on all sides sent shivers down the spines of American Legion Juniors at their costume Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Montgomery, 318 Grant street, last night.

The 30 young masqueraders were herded through dark hallways where spectators peered out at them from unexpected spots. Creakings and rattlings added to their discomfort.

When the frolics were brought out into the play room, a round of games was in store for them. Bonnie Lee Martin won the prize for drawing blindfolded the best cat. Mrs. Bert Casteix told fortunes.

The buffet supper table had been set with Halloween favors and decorations. A birthday cake, prepared for Ruth Murphy, who was unable to be present, was cut in honor of her anniversary.

Assisting Mrs. Montgomery were Mrs. D. M. Jellis, sponsor of the club, and Mrs. Casteix. Children attending were Bonnie Lee Martin, Phyllis and Mary Ann Sandon, Marjorie Johnson, Dorothy Boden, Mary Hoover, Barbara Montgomery, Rosalie and Cecilia Earel, Mary and Helen Juden, Jean Zable, Mary Alice Eklund, Mabel Louise Casteix, Shirley Edgar, Catherine J. Leif, Lucille Andrews, Marjorie Roehm, Nancy Neer, Jean Louise Robinson, Patricia Swarthout, Shirley Leimer, Gloria and Betty Banks, Helen Hughett, Leone Lindagard, Betty Lou Ranum, Mary Beth Bransell, Vernice Stigers and Frances Armstrong.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE SCRUBBING
By Mary Graham Bonner
Willy Nilly had a good idea. The little man's animal friends were certainly doing their acts well for the side-show in which they were taking part. But Sweet Face, the lamb, had been following a pig wandering around the outskirts of the county fair and Sweet Face had gone right through mud.

He was as dirty looking as could be, but Willy Nilly said to the audience:

Likes to Be Led
"Ladies and Gentlemen, Boys and Girls, as you all know a lamb is a great one for following."

other animal. A lamb likes to be led, although he will not be driven by human people as a general rule.

"Now my friend Top Notch, the rooster, is never one to follow."

At this Top Notch held his head very high.

"Oh, no, a rooster will never follow as a dog will, for example. But to return to the subject of my lamb whose name is Sweet Face, and as you will all see he has indeed a very sweet expression."

"Now, Ladies and Gentlemen, Boys and Girls, I am going to fetch a bucket of water and put it on this platform. Then I am going to bring in my muddy lamb, and after that I as going to ask my other animal friends to show you how we can celebrate a wash day when we wish."

Audience Laughs
How the audience did laugh as Top Notch, Rip, the dog, the bears, the crow and the ducks all had a part in scrubbing the lamb. And then Willy Nilly announced a change of program for the next day.

SATURDAY IS BIG DAY FOR DAIRYMEN

Judging Contest to Be Feature of Yearly Event in County

Orange county dairymen will hold their annual dairy day tomorrow, starting at 8:30 a. m. with a dairy judging contest at the Aliso dairy, three miles south of Santa Ana on Paulino road. Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory said the rest of the morning will be spent in inspecting dairies and in a program to be given at Westminster park. There the annual report of the contesting association will be given and certificates will be awarded to winners in cow competition classes. Talks on stabilization and cooperative associations will be given by W. B. Woodburn of the state department of agriculture and Dr. J. M. Tinley, agricultural economist of the University of California. A barbecue dinner will be held at 12:30 p. m.

HOLDING TWO JOBS A LITTLE CONFUSING

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 25. (AP)—L. G. Phares is one man who needs two cars, painted differently. It helps him decide when he is acting director of the public safety department and when he is chief of the highway patrol. "When you see me riding around in the blue car," he said, "I am the director. When I ride in the little black car, I am chief of the patrol."

MOTHER CONVICTED

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 25. (AP)—Mrs. Adu Mildred Schueler, 25 charged with beating her 9-year-old stepdaughter Marilyn, to death, was convicted yesterday by a jury of second degree murder. She was sentenced to life imprisonment.

FARMERS RALLY DUE NOV. 11

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25. (AP)—National and California Grange delegates from 36 states, numbering, officials estimated, "at least 5000 and possibly 10,000," will leave farm chores and meet here from Nov. 11 to 21. The occasion will be a joint convention that is characterized by Louis J. Taber, national master, as "the rallying point for American agriculture."

At the sessions, the spotlight of agricultural discussion will focus on New Deal farm legislation, credit unions, effect on farmers of an adverse supreme court ruling which the AAA "the crushing tax burden on agriculture," protecting the interests of agriculture in the eventuality of a European war, and numerous other related questions.

It will be the first national conclave in California since 1925, when it was held in Sacramento. "The meeting will be one of the largest ever held west of the Mississippi, if preliminary plans are an indication," George Sehlmeier, California master, reported on his return from a state tour during which he presided over 2000 members for convention rites.

Eastern Grange members will leave on a convention train Nov. 5, from Boston, traveling to New York, Cleveland, Chicago, Minneapolis, Seattle, and thence to Sacramento after a boat trip to Victoria, Canada. They will return by way of Los Angeles, Salt Lake City and Denver.

INSTITUTE HEAD IS ANNOUNCED

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25. (AP)—Announcement was made here of appointment of Dr. Charles E. Martin, professor of political science at the University of Washington, as director of the 1935 Institute of World Affairs to be held here and at Riverside, Dec. 14-20.

Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, chancellor of the institute, made the announcement. He said the institute sessions would feature national and world authorities on international affairs, leading discussions on such topics as "The Ethiopian Crisis," "The Collective Means for Preservation of Peace—Sanctions and Enforcement of Treaties," "Neutrality and Munitions Control," and "The New Deal Legislation and the Constitution."

Sessions will open on the University of Southern California campus Saturday evening, Dec. 14, on the topic "Economic and Financial World Conditions." A Sunday session will be held at Pasadena on "Problems of the Pacific." Remaining sessions will be held at Riverside.

RETAIL SCHOOL STARTS NOV. 6

The retail school for Santa Ana merchants will start Nov. 6 in the library of the Frances Willard Junior High school, it was decided Thursday at a meeting of the board of directors of the retail division of the chamber of commerce. Sessions will be held also on Nov. 13, 20 and 27.

J. H. Bell, P. F. Colanachick and James Harding were appointed to serve as a committee on attendance. Each store owner and his sales employees are expected to attend the sessions, which also will be open to the public.

General store arrangement, inside selling, window trimming, contacts and sales psychology will be some of the topics discussed. W. W. Wieman, head of the federal emergency education program here, outlined the project to the board today. On Nov. 5 at 5:30 p. m. a talk will be given over KREG, explaining how the cooperation of the local schools is making the project possible.

ORDINARY SOIL TO HALT WORM

COLUMBUS, Tex. (AP)—Max Schindler, cotton planter of the Bernardo section, reports successful experiments in the use of ordinary soil for dusting cotton to stop cotton worms.

Taking his cue from healthy plants he noted along roadsides, Schindler decided "poison dust" might not be necessary. One season's results were satisfactory and Schindler will try additional tests next year.

Fast Drivers in Britain Get 'Motorists Foot'

LONDON, Oct. 25. (AP)—Latest addition to the list of ailments known to medical science is "motorists foot," caused by pressing the accelerator too long and too hard.

Official discovery and sponsor of the malady is Dr. Henry Devine of London, who calls it "accelerator neuritis" in the British Medical Journal.

The main symptoms, he says, include numbness, heaviness and tingling, often traveling up the leg to the knee. There even may be swelling of the foot and leg and, in advanced cases, the foot may lose its functions.

The physician suggests that manufacturers equip cars with hand feeds.

Three prominent car builders, however, suggested that Dr. Devine's patients must have been driving bare-foot.

Fire Takes Long Way—From Car to Pole to House to ...

NEW CASTLE, Pa. Oct. 25. (AP)—This is how the fire started in Joe Frenkel's house. An automobile hit a pole. A power line fell across the feed wire to the house. All the fuses blew out and so much heat was created in an electric iron that it set fire to the family wash near the ironing board.

DEVIL'S ISLAND ESCAPE HUNTED

MARSEILLE, France, Oct. 25. (AP)—Police here are hunting a gang specializing in escapes from Devil's Island and other penal settlements in French Guiana.

The gang is said by investigators to operate on a money-back basis, returning the price paid if the escapee is not effected lest friends of the prisoner expose the band if it kept the money without producing results.

The usual price for organizing an escape is about $1000, police say.

THE RUSH HOUR, TOO

MANITOWOC, Wis., Oct. 25. (AP)—Alex Theodorou, restaurateur, burst into tears after Sheriff Max Hiller, Jr., took out his purse to pay his check. So did the sheriff. And likewise did the other patrons and waitresses. A small tear gas bomb had dropped accidentally from the sheriff's pocket.

IS A 'GRUNT' WORTH $25

Movie Officials Disagree

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25. (AP)—Is there an historian in the house?

Central Casting Bureau and R-K-O-Radio film studios were in the midst of a bitter argument yesterday, over the question of an Indian's grunt. The point at issue was:

Is a grunt a line of dialogue? Movie regulations say that if an "extra" is given one line, or one word or dialogue, in a scene, he must be paid $25 for that day's work.

The studio had several hundred "extras" working in the Wheeler-Woolsey comedy, "The Wild West." The "extras" are called upon to grunt.

Central casting insisted the studio owed the players $25 for each grunt, on the ground that a grunt was a line of dialogue. Radio executives refused, and paid the "extras" the regulation $7.50, claiming it wasn't.

He had been accused of evading heavy duties by declaring a set of "antique" rugs at only $400, while appraisers thought them worth $1250.

After a long explanation of the "antiquing" process, whereby the vividness of coloring is reduced, the expert finally convinced both the court and customs officials that his rugs were of the mud-bath variety.

BEAN INDUSTRY TO BE VIEWED

The annual meeting of the bean growers' department of the farm bureau will take place at 7:45 o'clock tonight in the farm bureau hall here. R. L. Churchill, manager of the California Lima Bean Growers association at Oxnard, will speak on "Market Outlooks and Present Conditions in the Lima Bean Industry."

Officers will be elected for the coming year. L. J. Bushard, chairman of the department, will report on its activities during the past year.

F. D. R. EXPLAINS FARMING PLANS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—President Roosevelt sought today to point the farm program away from an "emergency" application to a "long term" plan, asserting that the latter "is developing naturally out of the present adjustment efforts."

In a statement issued at his first post-vacation press conference, the President remarked it was not the intention of congressional framers of the act or administrators of the law to let the AAA be "either a mere emergency operation or a static agency."

"It was their intention—as it is mine—to pass from the purely emergency phases necessitated by a grave national crisis to a long time, more permanent plan for American agriculture," he said.

"As I see it, this program has two principal objectives:

"First, to carry out the declared policy of congress to maintain and increase the gains thus far made, thereby avoiding the danger of a slump back into the conditions brought about by our national neglect of agriculture.

"Second, to broaden present adjustment operations so as to give farmers increasing incentives for conservation and efficient use of the nation's soil resources."

Here Seems To Be Some Other Place In China

PEIPING, Oct. 25. (AP)—The legation quarter here has a street that has four different names in three blocks.

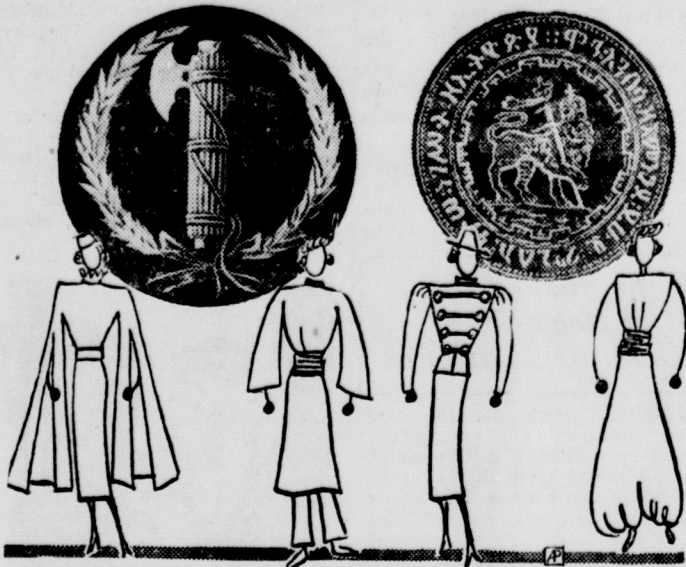

Beginning at the famous Water Gate in the south wall of the city, it is called Rue de Congress. Past the Grand Hotel des Wagonlits and the office of the American military attaché it splits into two one-way traffic lanes separated by a parkway.

In front of the British embassy it is called West Canal street, after the Jade canal, which used to flow between the roadways. On the other side it is Rue Mei in front of the Japanese embassy, but becomes Via Italia where it passes the former Italian legation.

Outside the legation quarter it turns into Nan Ho Yen, which is Chinese for "South Riverside Drive."

Flying times between many cities in China are being reduced.

Italian and Ethiopian Style Influences Show Up in Long Sleeves, Padded Shoulders

The new modes are ever topical and whether it's "Italian or Ethiopian" merely is a matter of taste for 1936. The two sketches at left show how the Italian influence is making itself felt in the new fashions, while two right show use of the Ethiopian theme with a touch of the "Near East."

By MILLIE HUDSON
LONDON, Oct. 25. (AP)—A review of the couture showings indicate that for 1936 are taking on a topical note, "Italian versus Ethiopian."

The Italian influence is inspired by Florentine paintings of the 15th century and by the Exhibition of Italian Renaissance paintings in Paris.

What is termed the Ethiopian influence, is indicated by clothes quasi-military in type much braided and befringed, reminiscent of the more picturesque Ethiopian uniforms. This, however, is mixed with an oriental, or rather "near-east," influence that crops up in many models.

Have Military Air
The more formal frocks take on the chaste, flowing lines of fifteenth century Italy, whereas day clothes mimic glamorous military effects.

For afternoons or quiet evening wear there are Franciscan monk robes with monastic rope girdles. Sweaters and knitted garments are influenced in colorings both by Italian and Ethiopian sources. De-luxed synthetic silk is used for hand and machine knitting.

Sports ensembles sometimes have three-quarter to five-eighth length coats hanging from the shoulders on loose lines with side fullness. Some coats and suits are quite military looking, some cloaks have ecclesiastical hoods, and some dresses and coats are made entirely of fine pleated material.

Many Colors
Sleeves are significant with the fullness at the top, and are either gathered into the wrist or left loose—the "best" new sleeve is knee length. Shoulders are widened, often padded. Waists are in the natural position, or a shade higher.

The chief colors are rich Florentine reds, rouge "Gallois," royal blue, deep wine, imperial violet, navy, beige, steel grey, black and "chocolate paper." Also one or two faded false shades, such as old blue, old green and dull purple are used.

Fancy gadgets are medieval jeweled belts, silver and gold coin trimmings, leather belts worked with coronets, cocks, padlocks and keys, gold intaglio belts in Italian designs, and turreted and heraldic belts with bracelets to match.

METAL RADIO TUBES HAILED AS MAJOR ADVANCEMENT

The new metal radio tubes which have aroused so much interest since they were announced a few months ago, have now proven themselves to be one of the major developments in radio reception of recent years, according to E. J. Taylor, of Taylor's Home Appliance Shop, dealer in Atwater Kent sets.

"Listeners who have been early to avail themselves of the new 1936 sets equipped with the metal tubes have been enthusiastic about the brilliance and clarity of reception they have experienced," Mr. Taylor said. "The new Atwater Kent sets were among the first on the market to use the compact and durable metal tubes. This was not an experimental step, however, for the decision to use them was not made until the company's research engineers had made comprehensive laboratory tests. It has been an Atwater Kent policy, since the first days of radio, to advance reception by pioneering with thoroughly tested improvements, rather than by gambling with sensational experiments."

"This innovation was not brought about merely by putting metal tubes into a previous chassis, modified for their use, in the case of the Atwater Kent sets. Because the characteristics of metal tubes naturally differ from those of

ARMLESS, LEGLESS HERO Rescues Wife From Blazes

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25. (AP)—Frank Seymour doesn't like to talk about how he became a cripple, or how today he was acclaimed a hero. He sits on a street corner in downtown Los Angeles selling pencils for a living.

But Frank Seymour is a hero though handicapped, his wife and friends say.

Early this week, after carefully saving the pennies and nickels dropped into his hat by kindly passers-by, Seymour decided he would take a short vacation in the nearby mountains.

Mrs. Seymour was cooking dinner in the mountain cabin they had rented. The gasoline stove exploded. Enveloped in flames, she shrieked in pain.

Seymour, seated across the room, looked on in horror. Desperation lent him strength. He flung himself upon her. Although the fire seared his flesh, he crushed the flames with his body.

For hours, the Seymours lay in pain upon the cabin floor until a mountaineer came upon them to render aid.

"It was quite a feat—quite an act of heroism for a man without hands or feet," said the physician who treated Seymour.

And, so, Frank Seymour, an armless and legless man, was back at his street corner, swathed in bandages, selling pencils. He says heroism doesn't buy bread.

glass tubes, the sets were specially designed to get the best out of the metal ones."

ADVISES VACATION FOR WORN-OUT LAND

MANHATTAN, Kan., Oct. 25. (AP)—Back to the "grass roots" is not merely a political exhortation of farmers and agricultural experts of the dust-blown region of the southwest.

E. A. Clevenger of Manhattan, crop specialist of Kansas State college, advocates grass as offering the best chance for rebuilding rundown farms and fields.

"It is nature's way of restoring worn-out, cultivated soils," he said, stating much land could be materially benefited by being "retired to pasture."

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS

By HOMER CANFIELD

A GAIN—FREE For nothing cheap—KFAC will bring you the entire production of "The Barber of Seville" from the stage of the Los Angeles Philharmonic auditorium. Set your dial at 1310 kilocycles along about 8:15.

Of marked interest for radio followers will be the operatic debut of Lucille Millikin, whose unusually high soprano (something like a B flat above high C) has often highlighted "California Melodies." She will sing the role of Rosina.

Others of the cast are Claudio Frigerio, as Figaro; Vincent Ceccarelli, Fiorello, and Alfonso Pedrosa, Basilio. Aldo Franchetti conducts.

They're in again!—Groucho (longwinded salesman), Harpo (tongue-tied harpist) and Chico (google-eyed piano tuner). All this madness will spill onto the airwaves at 6 o'clock when KHH runs a line into "Hollywood Hotel."

The occasion is the previewing of their latest flicker effort, "One Night at the Opera." However, if we're to believe advance reports, they'll muddle up the whole program. Genial Raymond Paige has the right idea, he'll open the proceedings with "The Crazy House Rag."

You sports minded fans need not feel left out of the picture. By dialing KFWE at 8:15 you'll hear Frank Bull's description of the TEXAS TECH-LOVOLA GRID-SPORTS team meeting. A twirl of the dial to KXN at 9:45 will bring in the fights from the Hollywood American Legion stadium.

And just take a look at the football games booked for tomorrow. The moves are the source of inspiration for yet another program. This time it's "Here's to Romance," Nino Martini's starring picture.

The hour adaptation, KFI-NBC, 8:30 p. m., will bring two prima donnas of two generations to your dial—Madame Schumann-Heink, beloved singer, of 74 summers, and lovely young Jane Froman. James Melton will sing Mar-

OPERETTA this screen role. Two new J. C. Kern numbers, "I Dream Too Much" and "I Got Love," are to be featured by Richard Himber on

CHAMPIONS his KJH-CBS 9 o'clock broadcast. Other outstanding melodies programmed for this set band are "My Foolish Heart," "You're Devastating" and "It's All So New to Me."

Stuart Allen does the vocals.

ECHOES OF THAT 'VILE' 1936 WORLD SERIES

JUDGE KENESHAW MOUNTAIN LANDIS yesterday fined some of the Cub boys and Umpire George Moriarty for "vile talk" during one of the title contests. For a rather heated exchange of compliments the boys were fined $200—Woody English, Manager Charlie Grimm and Players Herman and Jurgens.

You know about how much a hard-working baseballer likes to have 200 clam shells lifted out of his bank roll. So here's what they had to say today:

Grimm: "I will be glad to remit the fines for Jurgens, English and Herman. I want the money to come out of my own pocket. They had spirit. All of us were within our rights in condemning Moriarty for decisions we believed to be wrong."

Herman: (When asked how many words he used in the argument with Moriarty.) "I used all of 'em."

Hank Greenberg, first baseman of the champion Tigers, who, Cubs claim, started it all by calling Phil Cavaretta, young Cub first baseman, "vile" names: "The charges against the Cubs are well founded, but there was no justice in fining Moriarty. I wish I had been called in to testify in the case." (No comment from Moriarty.)

Our own thought is that the boys were just a little over-heated from the contest and said a few things they didn't mean. Tackling a fine on them smacks of an "I'll make you stay after school" attitude and really does little good. The best possible punishment for any player is to oust him from the game immediately upon a violation of rules.

A FEW SHORT NOTICES FOUND ON THE CUFF

LET'S ALL SCREAM "dictatorship" rule in one state that two football teams must play at a specified time. South Carolina has it in writing that State and Clemson must play at high noon on Thursday of state fair week each year. . . . The governor sits on one side of the field for one half, then switches colors and marches across to the other.

Add comebacks: Jim London, the dumb guy, is going to bother about it when right now he has a cool million in the sock. . . . And Jack Sharkey and a lot of other down-at-the-heels heavyweights who hope to have their chin poked by Joe Louis . . . for a cash consideration.

Wise guys are predicting that Grand Slam, the Bomar stable's crack 2-year-old will be the winner book favorite for next year's Kentucky Derby. . . . Hope that nag will run at Santa Anita. . . . Watch Top Row if that pony runs out here. . . . He's beaten Discovery this year.

WAGERIN' WILLIE BACK INTO THE OLD FOLD

UNTIL HE SLUMPED into our office this morning we only seen Wagerin' Willie a couple of times since he returned from the world's serious. It was a nice day and we couldn't throw him out.

"Willie," we said, "pick some football winners for our Friday column, will you?"

Faster'n Mickey Cochrane going after a short fly, Willie drove his hand into the vast remoteness of his trousers. And came up with a list. There they were, all the major games of the week picked.

We give them to you for better or not:

Notre Dame to win a dog fight from Navy, Yale by a nose over Army, Stanford to fool the experts by licking Washington, Alabama to come back against Georgia, Louisiana State too good for Georgia, Michigan to beat Columbia, Princeton to take Cornell in slow time, Minnesota to stop Northwestern, Purdue to make havoc in Carnegie, Chicago to stop Wisconsin. Stop for breath.

Now: Nebraska to emerge from a slump against Oklahoma, Kansas to lose to State, California over S. C., U. C. L. A. over Oregon, and Duke by a fair over Auburn, also Pitt and Penn State and Missouri to remain undefeated against Iowa State.

OLDTIMERS TO VIE IN GOLF

An old-timers' golf tournament, with all former members invited, will be conducted at the Santa Ana Country club tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock. A dinner, arranged by the board of directors, will be held following the competition.

Mrs. Jack Colburn, Santa Ana, made a clean sweep of honors in ladies' competition over the Newport boulevard course yesterday. She shot a 98-18-80 to win the regular play, and carded a 17 to annex blind-hole competition over holes Nos. 4, 8, 14 and 15.

ATHLETIC ABILITY COUNTS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Dr. James H. Kirkland, in his forty-third year as chancellor of Vanderbilt university set up "athletic ability" today as "a factor in student value." "When the scholarships are passed around," he said, "and when loans are made, the student's athletic ability should be taken into account."

Apparently desiring more basketball glory than the Church league championship of 1934-35 brought them, Skipper Bernard (Bus) Snow's Latter Day Saints ousted to a 52-12 victory over Christian Missionary Alliance at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

Lester Slaback's South Methodists, who spent more of last winter hugging the cellar, showed signs of new life in overthrowing the Nazarenes, a new entry, piloted by Al Lounsbury, by a margin of 26 to 9.

The crack United Presbyterians, who were dangerous during the last campaign, got off to another flying start Wednesday by burying St. Peter's Lutheran, 54 to 16.

One of the classiest guards who ever set foot on the "Y" court, LeRoy (Chub) Sears, not only turned in some sparkling defensive work for the Mormons but led them in point-making with 17. The Latter Day Saints will have smooth teamwork again this season, if their initial appearance is a true indication of their ability.

Russell Duffel, pint-sized forward, hit the loop for 13 of M. E. South's 26 points against the Nazarenes.

PRESIDENT PLEADS WITH NATION FOR DONATIONS TO CHARITY

INDUSTRY IS RECOVERING, HE SAYS

Asks Aid in Removing Relief Burden from Government

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—With a declaration that private industry is now "taking up the slack" of unemployment but that the nation nevertheless should increase its donations to charity, President Roosevelt asked support for a private welfare drive that is in progress throughout the country today.

In an optimistic address delivered by radio last night on the opening program of the 1935 mobilization for human needs, the President stressed reports of increased employment.

He referred to a September employment gain of 350,000 workers the department of labor. This, in private industries reported to be the level of November, 1930 and the payrolls back to the level of May, 1931. He added that even the "durable goods" industries, long "backward," are now "putting their best foot forward."

"Taking Up Slack" "Recently," he said, "I expressed the hope that private industry would strain every nerve to increase their payrolls, increase the number of those whom they employed, and thus take from the federal government and their local governments a great share of the burden of relief."

"The figures which I have cited lead me to a greater confidence that private industry is living up to my hope. We seem to be taking up the slack."

"The nation, he said, is 'rapidly emerging' from the 'years of deep depression.' He linked these statements with his appeal for generous giving in connection with the mobilization movement, sponsor of Community Chest drives in 350 cities.

"There still remains, and will long remain, a sadly distressed segment of our population, destitute and unprovided for, in the communities of the United States," he said.

He spoke of the poor who needed medical care, undernourished children, of the needs of private hospitals and homes for the aged, blind and incurable. These, and other welfare agencies, he said, "must and should expand their splendid work."

"But we do want to emphasize that word 'work,'" he said. "Neither private charity nor government relief wants to continue to help people who can work but who won't work. There is only one legitimate excuse for unwillingness to work, and that is bad health or advanced age."

Police Department Starts Cub Den Movement for Boys Between Ages of 9 and 11

What promises to be one of the greatest movements of its kind ever attempted in Santa Ana was launched today when Chief of Police Floyd Howard announced the organization of a Cub Den for boys between the ages nine and 11. The group will be under the direct supervision of the Santa Ana police department and will have a membership of at least 90. Officer Hunter Leach, who has had wide experience in boys work, will act as cub master. Chief Howard has appointed Officers George Boyd, W. H. Heard and J. B. Stephenson to a committee which will have the general supervision of the group. The first lesson in cubing, "I am my own policeman," will be the basis of a program of instruction. The youngsters will be taught the rules of safety, how to become self-reliant, courtesy, and the rules of playing the game on the square. Chief Howard said.

The cubs will be divided into groups of 12. At the head of each group will be an older boy who has volunteered his services for a term of at least six months. The group leaders will be selected from the former junior police organization, and will be thoroughly trained in group leadership. They will be known as den leaders, and will be under the supervision of the Boy Scouts of America.

A distinct type of uniform will be worn by the cubs. They will all be clad in blue trousers and shirts, and will wear blue overalls caps. Each boy will be issued a purple neck scarf with a gold emblem resembling the police badge. A similar emblem will be on the cap, Chief Howard said.

The first meeting of the group will be held in the Spurgeon elementary school on the night of Oct. 31. As soon as the new city hall is completed, meetings will be held in the police gymnasium and squad room, Chief Howard said. Membership in the organization will be based on deportment, attendance and efficiency in school work. Applicants for membership may obtain further information by communicating with Chief Howard or any member of the committee in charge.

JUDGE FACING 2 PROBLEMS IN CASE

Must Decide Status of Widow and Daughter As Johnson's Kin

With two difficult questions to be answered, Judge F. A. Leonard of San Bernardino, sitting in department 1, superior court, late yesterday ordered submitted the petition of Mrs. Jessie Elvira Johnson for a $300 monthly allowance from the $150,000 estate of H. Edgar Johnson, late Fullerton publisher.

Mrs. Johnson is seeking the allowance on behalf of herself, as widow of the publisher, and her 15-year-old daughter, Beverly, whose parentage Mr. Johnson denied in a will dated a short time before his death last May. Mr. Johnson also denied that he was ever legally wed to the woman who is now claiming a share of his estate.

Marriage Is Question The first question facing Judge Leonard for solution is whether Mrs. Johnson is the real widow of the publisher. H. C. Head, special administrator of the Johnson estate, through his attorney, Col. M. B. Wellington, resisted payment of the $300 or any monthly allowance on the grounds that Mrs. Johnson and the publisher were not legally wed.

In his will Mr. Johnson admitted that a ceremony had been performed at Ventura, but denied its legality on the grounds that Mrs. Johnson was not at that time legally divorced from her former husband, Leon Engstrom. Mrs. Johnson had secured a Mexican divorce, and during the hearing on her petition in court she admitted that neither she nor her former husband had ever been in Chihuahua, Mex., where the decree was granted.

The second question to be decided by the court is: If Mrs. Johnson is the real widow of the publisher, did the marriage ceremony, approximately 12 years after the child's birth, legitimize her?

Known as Engstrom While testifying for her mother, Miss Johnson created a mild sensation when she declared that until four years ago Mr. Johnson was known in Beverly Hills, where the family resided, as Mr. Engstrom. Mr. Engstrom, former husband of the woman who is seeking a share of the late publisher's estate, died last March, just two months before the death of Mr. Johnson.

In his will, filed for probate, Mr. Johnson gave the woman who claims to be his widow, the home in which she is living and nothing more. The remainder of the estate, after a trust fund had been created for the child whose paternity he denies, was divided among relatives and friends. Miss Virginia Remsburg, one of the beneficiaries to whom he left $10,000, was in court during a portion of the hearing on the monthly allowance petition.

Mrs. Johnson, through her attorney, Isadore Dockweiler, has filed a contest to probate of the will which will be heard before a jury in superior court Nov. 18.

Why Walkers Are Hit By Autos

JAYWALKING BETWEEN INTERSECTIONS 23.77%

CHILDREN PLAYING IN ROADWAY 13.17%

Santa Ana's safety campaign, inaugurated by Police Chief Floyd Howard, applies to pedestrians as well as drivers of motor vehicles, and pedestrians should do their part in cutting down the great number of accidents, the chief said today. Careless pedestrians last year caused 9,718 traffic accidents in California in which 1,012 persons were killed and 7,149 injured. Major reasons for these avoidable casualties and their percentages of the whole are illustrated above in pictures prepared by the Automobile Club of Southern California. The remaining 19.09 per cent of the accidents resulted from miscellaneous pedestrian errors.

EDWARDS TO HEAD FIRST AID GROUP

Vets Welfare Officer Named to Post by Red Cross Chief

Harry Edwards, veteran welfare officer, was named chairman of the first-aid committee of Santa Ana chapter of the Red Cross yesterday by Dr. John Wehrley, chapter chairman. Mr. Edwards also is chairman of the highway first-aid committee of the organization.

Following his appointment as head of the new group, Mr. Edwards announced he is preparing to conduct an educational program offering first aid instruction to various groups and organizations in this district. Scoutmasters of the various Santa Ana troops already have arranged to participate. The instruction courses will be open to the public, he said.

Personnel of the Santa Ana chapter's highway first-aid committee will include representatives of the Orange County Medical society, telephone company, sheriff's office and California highway patrol.

Harold P. Terwilliger, field representative in first aid and life saving, was in Santa Ana yesterday and complimented the Santa Ana chapter and Mr. Edwards on the plan already worked out for establishing first-aid stations on various highways in southern Orange county. He said that the Santa Ana chapter is the first in the state to cooperate with the national program of establishing such stations.

Pointing to the need for such emergency stations, Mr. Terwilliger said that last year 2805 people were killed on California highways and 45,000 persons injured in wrecks.

He also complimented Chief of Police Floyd Howard for his safety driving campaign recently started here, and said that with motorists being asked to sign pledges for safe driving the traffic hazard doubtless will be reduced.

College and Hi School Age Like Same Marian Martin Pattern

PATTERN 9536

Only a mother knows the incessant clothes demands of two growing daughters. Though one is just a high school miss, and her big sister already back to college, both are sure to take a fancy to this graceful young frock that's styled to go anywhere. Perchance one will prefer it for winter classes, made of bright jersey, rabbit's hair wool, or challis; the co-ed with tea dates to keep will insist that hers be of crepe or dressy satin. And mother will have them finished in double quick time, for the straight lines and collarless yoke are easy to make features. Complete. Diagrammed. Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9536 may be ordered only in sizes 8, 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 requires 2 1/2 yards 54-inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

Be sure to send for your new Marian Martin Pattern Book! It pictures dozens of easy, thrifty ways to make lovely new fabrics—in smart fall and winter clothes for your whole family! Shows designs for adorable, easy-to-make Christmas gifts, too. Tells how to make yourself more charming by the right choice of clothes and accessories. Send for your copy now! Price of book 15 cents. That Miss Doris Rohrbacher and Orville Schuchardt will be married Nov. 7 was told Miss Rohrbacher's Sigma Theta sorority sisters when they met Wednesday evening in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rohrbacher, 2414 North Park boulevard.

Bridge occupied the early part of the evening. Ices, cakes and mints led with the wedding party were served by Miss Rohrbacher, Frank Hilligass and Mrs. George Bradley.

Others present were Mesdames Joseph Irwin, Gilbert Melsinger and William Jerome, Jr., and Mesdames Georgina Irvin, Jeannette Lewis, Katherine Harbert, Harriet Gruetner, Ruth Owens, Betty Wiswall, Louise Rupp, Katherine Cornwell, Dorothy Lewis, Joanne Baker, Mary Jane Baker, Margaret Guard, Jeannette Warhurst and Martha Wallingford.

MRS. LAUDERBACH HOSTESS AT INFORMAL PARTY

Mrs. Leon W. Lauderbach was hostess yesterday afternoon in her home at 1805 Spurgeon street with an informal party for a group of friends.

Courts whist was played. Miss Mary Craig and Mrs. Gus Leive won prizes. Before the play, the hostess served a dainty dessert course. She used cosmos in appointing the home.

Other guests included Mesdames Gene Robinson, Walter Mars, Henry Filer, Clyde Bach and John Wesley Hancock.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO BE ENTERTAINED BY STUDIO TALENT

Santa Ana Woman's club at its meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Veterans' hall will be entertained with a program presented by the Visel studios.

Mrs. R. P. Arnold is in charge of the program for the day. The business session will open at 2 o'clock.

Church Rites Unite Young Couple

Last evening at 8 o'clock in the flower-banked Santa Ana Nazarene church, a Pasadena college romance was culminated in the marriage of Miss Alpha Viola Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gilbert, 323 West Eighteenth street, to George Travis Counts of Pasadena, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Counts of Fort Sumner, N. M.

The Rev. J. F. Ransom, music director in Pasadena college, assisted by the Rev. Leonard Meggers, local pastor, officiated. The wedding was witnessed by 300 guests.

Attendants in Pastels The bride wore a white satin gown made with a train and long sleeves, and a white tulle veil, full-length, banded with orange blossoms at her forehead, and carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses. Mrs. Orville Hess of Pasadena, wearing light green taffeta and carrying sweet peas, was matron of honor. The bride's sister, Miss Florine Gilbert, in pink taffeta with sweet peas, was maid of honor. Miss Lydia Katz of Santa Ana, in amethyst taffeta, and Miss Olive Bottmiller of Pasadena, in green taffeta, both carrying sweet peas, were bridesmaids.

The bride's young niece, Betty Jo Sturgis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sturgis, Pasadena, in long yellow taffeta frock, carried rose petals and made a quaint flower girl. Orville Hurd was best man. Doyle and William Gilbert and William Rhone of Pasadena were ushers.

Three Are Soloists Before the ceremony, Miss Catherine Eyer, Pasadena, sang "At Dawning," and Miss Lucille Wright, Pasadena, sang "Oh, Promise Me." Miss Eleanor Cummings of Pasadena played a violin solo. "The Bells of St. Mary's," Lyle Prescott of Pasadena was organist.

The bride entertained her attendants and the bridal party at a reception on the eve of the wedding in her parents' home.

For her traveling suit, Mrs. Counts wore blue silk crepe with harmonizing accessories. She and her husband left on a short trip, following which they will live at 1727 Woodbury road, Pasadena. As she is a graduate of Pasadena academy and Pasadena college, whence she received her A. B. degree last June.

Mr. Counts has another year's work in Pasadena college. He is owner of a garage in Pasadena.

TRI-Y MEMBERS ARE INDUCTED AT CANDLE SERVICE

Girl Reserve light spread its flame to a new class of members last night at candle-lighting recognition services held by the Tri-Y in the chapel of the First Methodist church.

As the membership candidates accepted their challenge from Maxine Knight, president, they lighted individual candles from the head fire held by the president. Betty Neff, membership chairman, extended the light to the old members, sitting in a body toward the front of the chapel.

The stage was centered with a five-foot floral replica of the Girl Reserve emblem. Tall candelabra lighted the stage, where the officers, Maxine Knight, president; Helen Lowe, vice president; Betty Neff, membership chairman; Dorothy Jenkins, secretary; Isabel McCormack, treasurer.

Previous to the obligation, the Lyric String trio, composed of Beatrice Granas, pianist; Anna May Archer, cellist; and Audrey Granas, violinist, played an atmospheric program.

The call to worship was given by a vocal trio, composed of Mary Nalle, Betty Neff and Jane Nalle. As the officers concluded their explanation of the "body, mind and spirit" objectives of the organization, Marijane Belcher, guest soloist, sang.

Candles lighted, old and new members filed from the chapel singing the Girl Reserve song, "Follow the Gleam."

A reception was held following the ceremony in the social hall of the church. Helen Hicks and Norma Aare were in charge of arrangements.

Those who took the Girl Reserve obligations were Helen Motley, Flora McFadden, Jerry Peck, Winifred Pettit, Lois Riggs, June Schorle, June Clark, Frankie Barnett, Frances Whitaker, Jean Routh, Grace McCoy, Mary Young, Janet Ruddeman, Mary Sartor, Violet Brown, Mary Corey, Maybelle DuBois, Betty Fry, Ida Holland, Elaine Jost, Naomi Knipe, Madeline Gilbert, Arline Hoffman, Kathryn Hall, Lucille Haskell and Jackie Morrison.

50-50 CLUB PARTY FOR WEEK-END SAID CANCELLED

Southern California Fifty-Fifty club's week-end party slated for tomorrow and Sunday at the Norco club has been cancelled, it was said today.

The affair was cancelled due to conflicting arrangements at Norco. Announcement of the club's next activity will be made later.

RECIPE FOR RED Chinese recipe is filling a multitude of decorative uses today, for doors, shutters and trim. It is mixed with equal parts of carmine and English vermilion.

Childhood Is Inspiration of Club

Childhood's never-to-be-forgotten days, inspired the writings and a generous act of members of the Peirian Literary club at its meeting yesterday afternoon in the pleasant home of Mrs. Hugh Gerard on Victoria drive.

Mrs. Henry W. Guthrie read two airy little poems, "Kingdom of Fairyland" and "The Gift Magnificent." Mrs. Jennie Crawford read a sketch, "Reminiscences of Childhood," telling of a visit to her grandmother's home, and a poem, "Happy Childhood."

Mrs. George Bond read from her writings, "Once Upon a Time" and a poem, "Childhood Memories." Mrs. Jacob Bohlander read "Land of Make Believe." Mrs. Watkins read "Vanishing Youth."

Four guests for the afternoon each contributed something for the program. Mrs. Vern Bishop told of her experiences teaching Mexican children, and of their appreciative nature. Mrs. F. A. Davis read "Down to the Town of Smiles." "A Yearning" was the topic of Mrs. Rose Haveley's offering. Mrs. E. E. Bell read "My Garden."

After hearing Mrs. Bishop, the club members decided to take a holiday dinner to the Mexican children of the Delhi school shortly before Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Gerard served individual pumpkin pies with whipped cream and coffee. Her home was decorated with chrysanthemums. The club's next meeting will be with Mrs. Guthrie, 824 North Olive street.

CANDLE-LIGHTING SERVICE INDUENTS W. F. M. S. MEMBERS

With a new member at every table of four, the Women's Foreign Missionary society at luncheon Wednesday held a candle-lighting service in honor of the new candidates.

As the luncheon came to a close, the hostess at each table lighted her own candle and then that of her new member. Those remaining at the table then lighted their candles in compliment to the new member.

Tiny pink candles had been set in novelty candle holders at each place. Table decorations had been arranged by each hostess for her own group. The luncheon was served under direction of Mrs. Delmar French.

Mrs. S. M. Hearn, president, officiated at the candle service.

On the program was a group of songs by Mrs. George A. Warner, accompanied by Mrs. W. B. Snow. Mrs. Harry C. Chapman read a number and Mrs. P. R. Arnold gave a humorous reading.

An interchange of greetings to the new members followed the program.

Mrs. Horton Palmer reviewed the branch meeting held in Fresno last week and Mrs. J. D. Harp gave a treasurer's report of the auxiliary.

NEVADA WEDDING ANNOUNCED BY S. A. COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Gorman (Peggy Osborn), 921 Lake street, this week have been telling their friends of their marriage last Sept. 10 at Carson City, Nev. Their wedding trip was to Lake Tahoe.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Osborn of Orange. She was educated in the East and is employed in the Orange County Title company.

Mr. Gorman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Gorman, Orange avenue. He attended U. S. C. school of pharmacy and is employed in the 17th Street pharmacy.

Fansworth, A. G. Flagg, R. G. Tutill, C. V. Davis, James Harding, Roy Hall, Mortimer Plumb and C. J. Cogan, Dr.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

How many hours' sleep do you think are necessary for the average individual?

Mrs. Francis Sherman: I think one really needs eight hours. A young child going to school should have at least 10 hours, so he can build strength. My mother used to get along on six hours.

Mrs. Harry S. Harlow: School children really are best advised on the subject if they will ask their instructors how many hours of sleep are needed at their particular age, I think. I find for adults the time varies considerably. In my own case, seven hours is sufficient. Generally speaking, eight hours seems a good average time.

Mary Stoddard Jealousy Poisons Everyone It Touches, Is Advice To Worried Wife

By MARY STODDARD

Jealousy is a slow poison that destroys everything it touches.

A jealous love is a selfish love, and the selfishness is greater than the love.

"Marie," who is three years older than her husband, resents every glance or word he gives to any other woman. She is SO afraid of losing him that she is driving him away from her.

Judge for yourself when you read her letter:

Dear Miss Stoddard: To begin with, I am three years older than my husband. When we were married five years ago that didn't seem to make any difference. But now I look and act older than he, and I am afraid I am losing his love.

He is a good provider and he doesn't go out nights alone, but here's the trouble: Whenever we have company he pays more attention to the younger women than he does to me.

He likes younger girls. All of our friends are married couples, but all of the girls are younger than I am, and my husband laughs and kids with them. He seems to enjoy their society more than he does mine.

When I feel badly about this and mention it to him, he flies off in a tantrum and says I'm unreasonable.

He means more than anything in life to me. It makes me sick at heart to think that I may lose him.

What can I do to hold him? Do you think he is likely to fall in love with one of these younger women whose company he enjoys so much?

This slight difference in your ages is immaterial. You and you alone are making those few years loom up like a thunder cloud. That's why you look and act older now than you did when you were married. If you concentrate on any one thing that thing will become paramount.

It's Your Fault. It is really your jealous attitude that is making you look and act old. Your jealousy is utterly unreasonable, as you should be able to see for yourself.

Why in the name of something-or-other shouldn't your husband be pleasant to your guests? Wouldn't you resent it if he weren't?

The fact that he laughs with the wives of your mutual friends doesn't mean that he is in love with them.

He is devoting his life to you—he's working for you and making a home for you—he isn't stepping out on you.

No woman can completely "own" the man she marries. That greedy, possessive spirit destroys happiness.

The best way you can hold that husband of yours is to make up your mind once and for all that you are not going to lose him. You aren't likely to fall in love with another woman, unless you practically push him into her arms.

You must remember that he married you because he loved you. You must have faith in his love and loyalty.

Forget about the few years' difference in age which is disturbing you so much. To a casual observer your mountain is but a mere molehill.

MRS. E. M. NEALLEY ENTERTAINS HER CONTRACT CLUB

Mrs. E. M. Nealley entertained members of her bridge club with an informal party yesterday afternoon in her home at Tustin.

Other members present were Mesdames C. M. Rowland, Max-well Burke, Nate Beals and J. E. Gowen and Miss Beulah May, and two special guests were Mesdames J. S. Smart and E. E. Keech.

Frank Paterson and Mrs. Paterson, Dr. Melbourne Mabee, Parke Roper, Howard Timmons, Mrs. James Harding, Mrs. E. H. Behr, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. H. T. Duckett and Mrs. H. T. Dunning.

HALLOWEEN CAKE

By Mrs. William H. Trusty
1456 Maple Avenue
Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sugar, 3 eggs, 2 1/2 cups cake flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, 2 1/2 tsp. baking powder, 1 cup milk, 1 tsp. milk, 2 squares chocolate, 1/2 tsp. soda, 1 1/2 tsp. grated orange rind and yellow coloring.

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually. Cream well, add beaten egg yolks. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add to creamed butter alternately with milk. Fold in beaten egg whites. Divide batter into two parts. To one part add the 1 tsp. milk and melted chocolate, to the other half of batter add orange rind and yellow coloring.

Drop by spoonful, alternating colors as marble cake. Use two 8-inch greased and floured tins. Bake for 30 minutes in oven 350 degrees F. Note: stir batter as little as possible after it has been divided. Nucoa coloring may be substituted for yellow coloring. This recipe makes a big cake.

Parties Fete Wives of Masons

Wives ought to share the honors of having a husband take the third degree, thought women whose husbands belonged to Silver Cord lodge, Masonic order, about three months ago. Thus the custom of giving parties to honor the wife of a candidate on the night of his induction was begun.

Mrs. J. F. Jacoby began with a party complimenting Mrs. John J. Vernon. Regularly after that on Tuesday nights, wives of friends of a candidate who was to be admitted celebrated at festivities which honored the candidate's wife.

Tuesday night, Oct. 15, was the date of the last third degree party, which was a pot-luck dinner given at the home of Mrs. Don Edwards, 928 North Baker, for Mrs. John Turtan. Next Tuesday night Mrs. John J. Vernon, 2020 Santiago road, will entertain in honor of Mrs. Ray Echols and Mrs. A. Ray Montgomery at a desert course and card party.

HANGING THE PAINTING

A good painting, or any particularly lovely picture, should never be hung close to other pictures. Wall space should be given to it in order to enjoy its full beauty. The eye is very inclusive and should not be distracted by small and inconsequential pictures when there is something artistic to admire.

Railway earnings in France are 11 per cent lower than a year ago.

JUNIOR COLLEGE BOOK HONORED

First class honor rating has been awarded Del An, Santa Ana Junior college year book, by the National Scholastic Press association, it was announced today by George B. Holmes, advisor of the publication.

All-American rating, the highest given to any books, was awarded to only two annuals in the junior college and normal schools division. They were Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., and University of Idaho, Pocatello, Idaho.

Other schools awarded first class honor rating are Chaffey Junior college, Ontario; Modesto Junior college, Los Angeles Junior college, San Bernardino Junior college, Pasadena Junior college and Santa Monica Junior college. Compton Junior college and Riverside Junior college were awarded second class ratings.

Year books are scored on the basis of plan of book and theme, organizations of various sections, editing and makeup, and mechanical consideration. Jack Pegues, this year attending the University of Southern California on a journalism scholarship, and Charles Downie, now enrolled in the department of journalism at the University of Missouri, were co-editors of the winning book.

Edna Wilson has been appointed editor-in-chief of Del An for the coming year. Other members of the staff will be selected soon.

JUST A SNACK
NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)—The Central Park Zoo's pink hippopotamus has been put on a diet. Hereafter she will get only one meal a day—50 pounds of vegetables, with an occasional apple. She used to eat double that amount.

MORNING STAR

— BY MARIAN SIMS —

SYNOPSIS: Emily Barnes cannot decide whether it is better to submit to her husband's narrow-mindedness and stupidity, or whether she must try to reform him. Her only ally at home is her father. Jeffrey has been a martyr to his wife's sense of duty all his life, and suggests that Emily continue her effort. If it fails, he will stand by her. Then Edwin comes home and tells Emily all about the meeting of the merchants' association.

CHAPTER 29

QUARREL

Emily paused before the bookcase, seeking solace there.

"I wonder what's become of 'In the Beginning'?" She was speaking as much to herself as to Edwin. There was no way, of course, for him to know what had become of a volume of Norman Douglas.

His paper rustled and was silent. At last Edwin said: "I burned it."

She turned and stared at him. "You—what?"

"I burned it," he repeated doggedly.

Emily's eyes were almost black. "What precipitated that—triumph of righteousness?"

He explained, almost sullenly. "I heard you telling someone how much you enjoyed it, and when I went to Birmingham last week I took it along to read. It was the vilest book I ever tried to read."

Her eyes never left his face. "Honi soit," she murmured, and stopped abruptly.

"What did you say?"

"Nothing. I was just quoting a proverb that attributes evil to him who evil thinks."

"There was no question about the evil there," he said hotly. "A book which dealt, too graphically, with scenes a man hardly discusses with his own wife. The fact that the scenes transpired between gods and goddesses didn't lessen their impropriety."

"No." Her voice was soft, thoughtful. "In the midst of all that beauty your medieval mind would notice the dirt."

He dropped the newspaper, stung into real bitterness. His motive in essaying the book had been praiseworthy; he wanted, in his inarticulate way, to acquaint himself with the things that interested Emily, and this was his reward.

"You can't resist slurring me, can you? And yet you can enjoy a book so suggestive that I was ashamed."

"To have it in your house" She snatched the words from his lips and flung them at him. "Shall we draw a line down the middle of it, Edwin, and let one-half of it be yours and the other half mine? Or would you prefer it all?"

"Emily!"

Suddenly the room and Edwin and Norman Douglas grew unreal and far away. There was a glorious sense of lightness and release, and then—nothing.

When she opened her eyes she was on the couch and Edwin was kneeling beside her, his white, terrified face very close to hers.

"Emily, sweetheart, what is it? Are you all right?"

"The world came back, suffocating, crushing her. She closed her eyes to shut it out."

"Yes, I'm all right. I haven't been to a doctor yet," she whispered wearily, "but I'm pretty sure I'm going to have that baby you wanted."

"Oh, my darling!" He laid his burning cheek against hers for an instant and then very gently lifted her in his arms and carried her to her room. He had forgotten the existence of a man named Norman Douglas; he was once more awed and adoring and very humble.

Frances Felton had found a new outlet for her energies and she was transformed. Already she was making lists.

"Of course we won't try to get everything at once, but William can drive us to Birmingham in the morning and we can make a beginning."

Emily moved restlessly in her deck chair. The garden was bathed in sunlight and the tulips and iris were vying with each other for supremacy. The result was intoxicating.

"Not yet, Mother. There's so much time for all that later. This isn't the sort of thing that slips up on you."

She looked a trifle upset by her levity. "But you won't want to go later?"

Emily's eyes had an unruly glint. "Why not? Everybody on earth got here by the same route."

"Emily!"

"I'm sorry." But she didn't sound particularly sorry. "It's just that I'd rather stay out in the sunshine for a while and work my garden."

"But you have no business working your garden! Dr. Proctor should forbid it."

"Oh, not that actively, darling. But I can potter around and superintend Andrew. And then during the last few months I'll sit and hem napkins as much as you like."

Her mother stared. "Sometimes, Emily, it's hard to believe that you are my daughter."

"Isn't it?" Emily agreed cheerfully. "I don't understand why you haven't cast me off before this."

She thought with amusement of how easy it was to defy someone when you no longer had anything to lose. She derived a positive delight from shocking Frances now.

Frances decided upon an acceptance of the inevitable and changed the subject. "Your father is like a child over it."

Emily smiled. "Bless him! If it's a boy I'm going to name it for him." To herself she thought, "He knows it's a good thing for me, too. That won't throw my cap over the windmill now."

"I've always thought a child should be named for its father," Frances objected.

"It's so confusing, darling. You end up by calling him Junior, which isn't a name at all, or Buddy, or Sonny, or Toodles, and he never lives it down."

She chuckled suddenly. "Suppose Edwin had been called 'Toodles'! It might have altered his whole nature. Do you know, I think one of the most significant things about Edwin is that he's never had a nickname."

Frances rose.

"I must be going," she said coldly. "If you need my help at any time, I shall be glad to do what I can."

Emily was smitten with contrition. "Of course I'll need your help. I haven't an idea how to begin. I only want a breathing space first, to adjust myself; after that you won't have a minute to call your own."

She kissed her mother, and felt from the relaxing of her body that she was mollified.

When Frances had gone she sank once more into the deck chair and closed her eyes.

At least there had been no scenes since the one about the book. In all the category of Edwin's fetishes, motherhood held first place, and his attitude since that night had been compounded of reverence and awe.

She heard his step upon the flagstones; dear heaven, was it lunch time already! And then she felt his kiss upon her forehead. He nearly always kissed her upon the forehead now. She opened her eyes and managed a smile.

"Greetings. Aren't you a little early?"

Edwin sat in the other deck chair and looked at her. He spent a good deal of time just looking at her. "I may be, a little. But I thought you might want something. Are you all right?"

"Quite. I can still move around, you know."

She smiled teasingly at him, wondering if she could maintain her balance for the remaining months on the rather dizzy pedestal upon which he had enthroned her.

"I know you can, but I'm afraid you may overtax your strength."

He was very patient with her levity and irreverence now; he made her think of an indulgent parent humoring a refractory child that had been very ill.

"I won't darling," she assured him. "I'm really lazy, anyhow, and I snatch at any pretext for idleness."

"This isn't a pretext," he said firmly.

There was no use in arguing it, of course. She rose. "I expect lunch is ready."

On the way to the house he kept his arm tightly about her waist.

Charlotte's acknowledgment of her news was characteristic and comforting. Charlotte's letters had a way of putting everything in its proper perspective.

Even Judith broke a silence of many months to rejoice with her. There had been a brief announcement three months before of the arrival of David Carroll Morton, but Judith had been too occupied for letters.

"I'm glad about this," (she wrote), "for more reasons than one. I've guessed from the things you haven't said that Edwin is by no means perfect, and after the baby comes he won't particularly matter."

She smiled wistfully at Judith's enthusiasm and wondered if the day would ever come when she could sun herself once more in the radiance of Judith's personality.

Grandmother, 80, Gets M. A.; May Study for Ph. D.

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 25. (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Gist, who obtained her master's degree at the age of 80, is considering study for a Ph. D. The mother of 11 children and grandmother of 12 said she isn't "too old to do anything I want."

She received her master's degree at Claremore (Calif.) college last June.

JAPAN METAL TRADE WANTS AS DEMAND COMES FROM EUROPE

CRISTOBAL, C. Z., Oct. 25. (AP)—With Italy and other European countries in the market for scrap metal from the United States, the traffic of scrap iron and steel through the Panama Canal to Japanese ports shows signs of waning.

The peak, it is believed, was passed when one month in the past year showed a total of 120,000 tons Nippon-bound.

August shipments were $6,341 long tons, as against $9,192 tons in the same month last year.

'RELIEF' JOB IS FAILURE AS TOWN HAS NO IDLE MEN

ALMA, Colo., Oct. 25. (AP)—It's a tough break, but the Mosquito Pass highway isn't going to be surfaced with WPA funds.

The grant was made and plans were drawn before District Administrator Terry J. Owens discovered there wasn't one able-bodied unemployed man in town. He called it off. Increased gold mine activity received credit for the labor shortage.

'TOBACCO ROAD' PLAY PROTECTED

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (AP)—Federal Judge William H. Holly issued a temporary order yesterday restraining the City of Chicago from interfering for seven days from the production of "Tobacco Road," a play closed Monday at Mayor Edward J. Kelly's order.

The order prevents the mayor and other city officials from interfering with presentation of the play and from revoking or threatening to revoke the licenses of theaters in which it may be produced.

MERRIAM WILL OPEN MANSION

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25. (AP)—California's widower-governor, Frank Finley Merriam, has announced he will renovate and reopen the white, old-fashioned executive mansion here, unoccupied since the Rolph administration, but he quickly grinned away the possibility of a new Mrs. Merriam. "You know when a person has no prospects," the governor said, "he gets a big kick out of such reports."

Estimates are being made on renovating the 58-year-old gubernatorial residence, and work is expected to start in the near future.

During the late Governor Rolph's term, local realtors approached the state with the idea of building an elaborate mansion in a fashionable suburb of the city. The project never rose above the discussion stage.

George Pardee was the first executive to live in the mansion after the state purchased it in 1903. Previously it had been the boyhood home of Lincoln Steffens, the author and liberal. Joseph Steffens, the writer's father, took it over in 1888.

Horses may be banned from all London streets.

SPANIARD, FAMILY 'JUST SAILING' IN SMALL BOAT

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Oct. 25. (AP)—Smaller than many of the Spanish craft which brought the conquistadores to the River Plate is the 128-ton bark Exir Dallen, which sailed into harbor here recently.

Aboard were Fernando Cardenas, Spanish industrialist, "just sailing" with his wife, their four children, 12 friends and three professional sailors.

They put out from Spain May 10, 1934, and made leisurely stops in the Canary islands, the Cape Verde islands and Brazilian ports.

After a month in Montevideo, they will visit Buenos Aires, then sail down the coast and through the Straits of Magellan to visit the west coast of South America.

Cast-iron roads are declared to be a success in London.

PLAGUE PLACED ON LAWRENCE OF ARABIA'S HOME

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Oct. 25. (AP)—The family of the late "Lawrence of Arabia," Aircraftsman T. E. Shaw as he was known after changing his name by deed poll, have had a memorial plaque placed on a tiny house here where he once lived.

The house is in a district favored by vaudeville actors. Shaw rented a back room.

His former landlady, Mrs. Fanny Hatcher, readily agreed to accept the gold-lettered plaque which reads:

"In this house lived T. E. Shaw, Lawrence of Arabia; July, 1933—November, 1934."

COINS TOSSED TO DIVERS FORM HONOLULU TREASURE

HONOLULU, Oct. 25. (AP)—Silver treasure, perhaps several thousand dollars of it, lies at the bottom of Honolulu harbor.

It's in dimes, quarters, half dollars and even a few silver dollars tossed overboard from the decks of liners to Hawaiian diving boys who swarm alongside.

QUEEN ARDALA SOUNDED THE ALARM SIREN!

ALL SEEMS QUIET! NO! MISTAKE, I GUESS.

OH? WHERE AM I? IS THAT YOU, BUCK? WHY WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOU?

SHE'S ALIVE!
